All Paintings In $7 Million Theft Found

LONDON (AP)—Eight paintings worth $7 million, stolen five days ago in the world's biggest art theft, were reported today recovered intact.

Three of the old masters were found in what was believed a professional robbers' den and others in a parcel behind a clump of bushes not far from London's Dulwich College Gallery where they were stolen Friday, police informants said.

Scotland Yard announced the recovery of the paintings but declined to give details. Detectives were still questioning some men in connection with the theft, the Yard said.

The paintings — three Rembrandts, three Rubens and one each by Gerald Dou and Adam Elsheimer—were reported to be in good condition despite exposure to frosty air. Some of the paintings were damaged slightly, officials said.

Scotland Yard insiders said three of the paintings were found Monday at a hideout which contained a hoard of other stolen property and some weapons.

They said an anonymous telephone call led detectives Tuesday night to Streatham Common, about four miles from Dulwich Gallery in South London, where the remaining five paintings were found in some bushes.

One of the Rembrandts was the "Girl at a Window," said to be worth $2.8 million. All the Rembrandts and Rubens were world famous.

Scotland Yard, announcing that the paintings had been recovered, said they were identified by the curator of the gallery.

The paintings were stolen Friday night from the college art gallery, the oldest public gallery in Britain.

It was the biggest art theft in history.

Police said they recovered Rembrandt's "Girl at a Window" and his portrait of his son Titus as well as the "Three Graces" by Rubens on Monday night. The other five paintings were found Tuesday night.

All the paintings were recovered in London. Officials said some were damaged but the damage was comparatively slight.

The announcement of the recovery did not say how the paintings were traced or whether anyone had been arrested.

Scotland Yard announced earlier that several persons were being questioned.

The Yard did not announce the recovery of the first three paintings for fear the thieves might destroy the others.

A hoard of other stolen property and some weapons was found with some of the paintings.

Scotland Yard said inquiries were continuing in an attempt to establish the identity of the art thieves.

The thieves removed a panel from a seldom-used door in the Dulwich Gallery, and one of them was small enough to slip through it. He apparently handed the paintings out to his confederates. Those on canvas were removed from their frames and those on wood panels were lifted off their racks.

Navy Pilots Blast Junks And Barges

Report Destroying Or Damaging 111 Off Haiphong Port

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Navy pilots attacked more than 200 North Vietnamese supply barges and junks Tuesday and reported destroying or damaging 111.

Moving in one day after American Air Force planes shot down seven Communist MIG21s, Navy fliers from three aircraft carriers reported using rockets to damage a surface-to-air missile radar site and to set fire to a torpedo boat off North Vietnam's port of Haiphong.

In South Vietnam, the ground war simmered down to small actions while elsewhere British moves to start peace talks met with a Communist rebuff.

North Vietnam officially rejected Britain's proposal to bring together representatives of the United States, North and South Vietnam. Hanoi called the British plan an "act of malicious intention."

In South Vietnam, the Viet Cong set free two American civilian construction men whom they had held prisoner since last May 27 and a Filipino whom they seized last June 24.

The trio was found today by a company of Vietnamese popular force troops some 40 miles northeast of Saigon, U. S. officials announced.

In other developments, Air Force long-range B52 bombers struck twice today at Communist positions in South Vietnam.

Before dawn, the heavy bombers swept in from Guam to hammer a suspected troop concentration 32 miles northwest of Saigon.

Soon after daybreak, a second wave of B52s pounded another suspected troop concentration eight miles west-northwest of Bong Son near the central coast.

In the Navy's air strikes Tuesday, F4 Phantoms and other jet bombers from the carriers Enterprise, Kitty Hawk and Coral Sea joined in repeated assaults against cargo junks and barges along the North Vietnamese coast and on inland waterways.

Pilots claimed they destroyed 13 barges and 3 junks and damaged 64 barges and 31 junks, scoring hits on more than half of the 200 watercraft attacked.

Navy Phantom jet pilots attacked a North Vietnamese torpedo boat 23 miles east of Haiphong and reported their rockets left the PT boat with two fires burning on it.

Fund Action Receives OK Of Council

Legislators Adopt Recommendation Made By Willshaw

Acting on a recommendation in Mayor George E. Willshaw's annual report, Council voted Tuesday night to instruct its finance committee to set aside 25 per cent of the city's income tax revenue annually — equivalent to at least $80,000 — to be spent solely for a citywide street improvement program.

The mayor proposed that the money be set aside each year for at least five years until work has been completed "on every street in town that it is feasible to pave." He said Council should earmark two-tenths of 1 per cent of the income tax of eight-tenths of 1 per cent, which he said would be equivalent to $80,000 a year.

BASED ON the annual income tax revenue, 25 per cent of the total should amount to at least $80,000, and might range as high as $90,000.

Property owners might be asked to pay part of the street improvement bill through special assessments, but that decision will have to be made by Council, the mayor commented in his three - page report reviewing accomplishments in 1966 and looking forward to 1967.

He said when the tax first was put into effect the city hoped to spend a large percentage each year on street improvements, but could not realize its plans fully because of other more pressing needs. The city's worn out rolling stock needed replacement and a big backlog of unpaid bills had accumulated, he said.

"But all our equipment now is in good shape and we have no unpaid bills," the mayor said, commenting that every city department finished 1966 "in the black."

Councilman Floyd Murray made the motion to instruct the finance committee to set aside 25 per cent of the income tax revenue solely for street improvement purposes. It was passed unanimously.

The mayor also revealed that 15,000 square yards of streets were surfaced during 1966 under the city's low - cost program and a surface treatment was applied to 73,193 square yards previously improved. The city uses income tax revenue to pay 50 per cent of the cost of initial surfacing and foots the entire bill for the seal - coating in subsequent years.

Algerian Exile Slain In Madrid

MADRID (AP) Spanish police searched today for two gunmen who assassinated Mohamed Khider, Algerian political exile accused of absconding with $11 million from the treasury of Algeria's ruling National Liberation party.

The 53-year-old former secretary-general and treasurer of the FLN — Algerian National Liberation Front — was riddled with bullets as he left his Madrid apartment house Tuesday night with his wife and brother-in-law.

Police believed the dispute over the missing FLN funds triggered the slaying of the former nationalist leader, a key figure in his country's revolt against French rule.

Independence leader Ahmed Ben Bella, who was overthrown as Algerian premier in 1965, had accused Khider in 1964 of making off with the $11 million and putting it in Swiss banks.

Khider counter-charged that Ben Bella took the money, but in an interview after Ben Bella's overthrow as much as admitted that he had taken it.

Madrid security police checked the list of Algerian refugees known to be in Spain. They also questioned Khider's widow, Fetta Toudor, and her brother in an effort to identify the gunmen.

The gunmen intercepted Khider in front of his apartment entrance, let him pass, then opened fire as he entered his car.

As Khider tried to get into the car, he was brought down by several bullets. Neither his wife nor her brother were hit. Khider's youngest son, 3, was asleep in the apartment at the time. His three older sons are in school in Switzerland.

A revolutionary since he was 25, Khider spent many years in French jails. He was one of nine nationalist leaders who decided in 1956 to launch the war for independence.

During the revolution and in the early days of the Algerian republic, Khider worked closely with Ben Bella. Later they broke over economic policies and the running of the FLN.

Leaders Held In Jail After Invasion Plot

Face Charges Of Violating U.S. Neutrality Laws

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The leaders of a tiny Cuban-Haitian exile army are in jail today, fuming over breakup of a fantastic plan to conquer Haiti and turn it into an invasion base against Fidel Castro.

Officials at Key West's Monroe County jail said all were held for the federal government on charges of violating U.S. neutrality laws.

Bond was set at $5,000 for Rolando Masferrer, exiled Havana politician who has tangled before with the United States over plots to shoot up Castro Cuba.

Officials set bond at $2,500 each for most of 27 comrades jailed here with him after a roundup of about 80 motley-uniformed persons, including a woman and a priest.

William B. Meadows, U.S. attorney for south Florida, said he was checking on whether Masferrer had violated restrictions imposed on him by the Immigration Service for previous war-making activities.

About 50 of the captives were taken to Miami for booking. All were released Tuesday night in recognizance bonds of $100.

Division Plans Outlined

Ohio Power Sets District Projects

Spending of $920,000 in the East Liverpool area and more than $1 million in the Wellsville-Hammondsville area is included in the record $119 million which the Ohio Power Co. and its subsidiaries will invest in 1967 to expand and strengthen its production and delivery capabilities.

W. S. Welday, manager of operations in the Steubenville division, announced the work today as part of a $6-million expansion for the division.

The division, in addition to Steubenville, includes offices in East Liverpool, Bellaire, Barnesville, Dillonvale and Cadiz.

WELDAY SAID the East Liverpool work "will strengthen service to the downtown area and will provide capacity for four new all-electric schools." Included are conversions of the distribution system to 12,000 volts and a new 69,000-volt substation.

The Wellsville - Hammondsville work will include a new substation and seven miles of 69,000-volt line.

The majority of the division program is in new and enlarged substations and lines in all sections, Welday explained.

"In addition to our expansion projects, our day-to-day operations and maintenance of present facilities will result in the expenditure of an additional $2.9 million," Welday said. "This, combined with the $6 million construction program, brings our total outlay in the division to nearly $9 million in 1967."

On the books for the new year is a project for the western sector of Steubenville, including a new substation, eight miles of new 138,000 - volt transmission line and the conversion of seven miles of line from 23,000 volts to 69,000 volts. This project will cost $1,045,000.

Ruby Denied Acquaintance Of Oswald

Tape-Recording Conversation With Brother Disclosed

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Ruby said in a tape-recorded conversation less than a month before his death that his fatal shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald "happened in such a blur that before I knew it I was down on the ground. The officers had me on the ground."

In the tape-recorded conversation with his brother, Earl, Ruby was asked if he knew Oswald before, and he replied: "I never have known him or seen him before."

Earl asked him, "Had you ever planned anything like this?"

"I was so emotionally upset for three days," Ruby answered.

"Is there any truth at all to the stories that Oswald had been in your club or anywhere," Earl questioned him.

Ruby, interrupting him, said: "None whatsoever. It's a fabrication."

The conversation, recorded in Ruby's maximum - security room at Parkland Memorial

Ruby Denied Acquaintance Of Oswald

Tape-Recording Conversation With Brother Disclosed

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Ruby said in a tape-recorded conversation less than a month before his death that his fatal shooting of Lee Harvey Oswald "happened in such a blur that before I knew it I was down on the ground. The officers had me on the ground."

In the tape-recorded conversation with his brother, Earl, Ruby was asked if he knew Oswald before, and he replied: "I never have known him or seen him before."

Earl asked him, "Had you ever planned anything like this?"

"I was so emotionally upset for three days," Ruby answered.

"Is there any truth at all to the stories that Oswald had been in your club or anywhere," Earl questioned him.

Ruby, interrupting him, said: "None whatsoever. It's a fabrication."

The conversation, recorded in Ruby's maximum - security room at Parkland Memorial

Man, 23, Held For Robbery At Area Home

A suspect in the New Year's Eve armed robbery of Mrs. W. K. Hoge of Glenmoor was apprehended Tuesday in Mobile, Ala., Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan reported today at Lisbon.

An armed robbery warrant has been filed against Donald James Hoyt, 23, of Echo Dell Trailer Court on the Beaver Creek State Park Rd. in St. Clair Township.

The sheriff said he and a deputy expect to go to Mobile soon to return Hoyt. Hoyt lived at the trailer court the last three months.

Mrs. Hoge was bound and robbed about 11:50 p. m. Saturday in the bedroom of her home. She told the sheriff a masked man carrying a rifle took $300 from her purse.

She was alone and had left the house lights on and the door unlocked for her husband to return from their restaurant — Hoge's Drive-In Restaurant on Route 30.

During Reorganization Meeting

Mrs. Dunlop Re-Elected President Of Board Here

Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop of Highland Colony was re-elected president of the East Liverpool Board of Education during the annual reorganization meeting Tuesday night.

Postmaster Samuel Brown was re-elected vice president.

Mrs. Dunlop, retired credit manager for D. M. Ogilvie & Co., was elected to the board Nov. 7, 1961, and began her duties Jan. 3, 1962. She was elected vice president Jan. 6, 1964, and then elevated to the presidency Jan. 3, 1966.

The board completed its 1966 business, which included revising the rental rates on all school property, before adjourning for the electio

Brown was named to serve as temporary chairman. Richard Smith nominated Mrs. Dunlop and Jack Woomer nominated Brown as president. A written ballot was taken and Mrs. Dunlop was chosen by a 3-2 vote.

Brown was nominated for the vice presidency by Woomer and since there were no other nominations he received a unanimous vote.

The board set its meeting nights for the first and third Mondays of each month at 3 p. m., with a caucus session at 7:30.

The members also adopted a temporary appropriation for the first three months until the

$394,508 Appropriation Set For 3-Month Period

Council allocated $394,508 Tuesday night in the customary temporary appropriation ordinance, setting up funds to meet the routine operating expenses of all municipal departments for the first three months of the new year.

The measure was approved at Council's first 1967 meeting. It will allow various departments to meet payrolls and buy materials and supplies while the Council finance committee works out the appropriation for the full year.

Here are the major appropriations, by funds: General Fund, $34,151; Safety Fund, $101,937; Health Fund, $6,755; Service Fund, $23,160; Garbage Fund, $32,650; Off - Street Parking Fund, $1,600; Water Works Fund, $76,295; Sewage Fund, $54,485; Street Fund, $49,100; Civil Defense Fund, $1,625 and Improved Street Lighting Fund, $3,000.

The Safety Fund allocation includes $46,200 for police department operations and $47,050 for fire department functions. The General Fund total includes $7,071 for Municipal Court operations.

Council customarily enacts the temporary appropriation at the start of each year. Funds must be provided for 1967 expenses, as the authority to spend money under the 1966 ordinance expired with the old year.

The three-month appropriation allows the Council finance com-

Chalmer Gifford has been appointed assistant chief of the Liverpool Township volunteer fire department to command the west department in LaCroft, replacing Homer Cronin, who resigned recently after 10 years' service.

Announcement of the appointment by Robert Badger of Dixonville, overall head of the township department, was made at a meeting in the LaCroft station Tuesday night. New officers also were installed.

Cronin was seated as president to replace Edwin Emmerling. Others are: Milton Kountz, vice president; Fred Fryman, secretary; Gifford, treasurer; Leonard Brewer, three - year trustee, and Fryman, firemen's dependent board.

In addition to Gifford, other officers of the department are: Kountz, captain, and Jack Gilbert, Jack Clutter, Charles Angus and Leonard Brewer, lieutenants.

Cronin named new standing committee heads. They are: Jack Clutter, ways and means; Alfred Copestick, finance, and William Rogers, carnival.

The next business meeting will be Feb. 7 at 7:30 p. m. in the station.

tary sewer projects. He asked Council to assign "high priority" for the jobs, which will affect Gardendale, a section near Anderson Blvd., Pleasant Heights and the Sunset Dr. area west of Orchard Grove Ave.

A new zoning ordinance should be adopted "as soon as possible" after a public hearing Jan. 30, followed by enactment of building and plumbing codes.

Estimates are being assembled on remodeling the North Side Fire Station and will be presented to Council soon.

Ordinances covering street openings and their resurfacing, plus maintenance of sidewalks and curbs by property owners, "should be given consideration at an early date."

One of the major accomplishments of 1966 came when the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development give preliminary approval to a proposed low - rent housing project of 260 units for East Liverpool, the mayor commented.

During 1966, the city purchased three new police cruisers, a fire chief's car, a snowblower and a street sweeper and also let contracts for a dump truck, ash spreader and pickup truck for the street department, the mayor reported.

The city bought and erected 151 new stop signs and completed the Ceramic Annex parking lot on E. 4th St., he said. Engineering has been completed for a State Highway Department project for improvement of Lisbon St. (Route 267) and a contract should be let soon for construction of a new auto-pedestrian ramp to tie together the two dead - end sections of W. 9th St., he said.

Willshaw reported that of 19 projects proposed to Council at the start of 1966, 10 were completed, six are being worked on, one was found not feasible and two still are being considered.

THE MAJOR accomplishments, he said, were:

Purchase of 574 new parking meters; acquisition of a new city garage and start of a regular maintenance program for vehicles; purchase of a new landfill dump on the Y. & O. Rd. promising a disposal site for the next 50 years; completion of easements for sewering of the East End Run when federal funds are available; installation of 2,400 feet of guardrails.

Establishment of the post of "Meter Maid" supervisor; a revision in the employe vacation schedule; enactment of ordinances for weed control and towaway of abandoned vehicles, and establishment of three new playgrounds and two new ball fields by the City Park Commission.

Commenting on the mayor's report, Murray said he hopes the city will begin work soon on the East End Run project. If funds are not available at one time for the massive project, it could be handled for a 10-to15-year period, Murray commented.

He recommended that Council confer with the finance committee soon on recommendations for items to be included in the 1967 appropriation ordinance. Murray pointed out wage requests have been given to Council by most city employes.

Pottery Official Gets Vacancy On City Park Board

Burchfield Cartwright of Elysian Way, an executive of the Homer Laughlin China Co., has been appointed to a four-year term on the Board of Thompson Park Commissioners to replace William H. Vodrey Jr., who asked not to be named again, Mayor George E. Willshaw said today.

The other members of the commission are Judge Louis Tobin, whose term runs through 1959; W. Leland Thompson, who will serve through 1968, and Louis Yanni, whose term runs out at the end of 1967.

The mayor will make one more appointment to fill a term which expired at the end of 1966.

The appointment of Mrs. Ila Finney Johnson ran out on the Board of Health. The terms are for five years. The other members of the board are Dr. J. Keith Rugh, G. Frank Dales, Dr. C. M. Mayberry and Paul Zehnder.

It was announced that the East Liverpool High School Class of 1956 has made a memorial gift in the name of the late Dr. David K. Taylor, a member of the class.

tary sewer projects. He asked Council to assign "high priority" for the jobs, which will affect Gardendale, a section near Anderson Blvd., Pleasant Heights and the Sunset Dr. area west of Orchard Grove Ave.

A new zoning ordinance should be adopted "as soon as possible" after a public hearing Jan. 30, followed by enactment of building and plumbing codes.

Estimates are being assembled on remodeling the North Side Fire Station and will be presented to Council soon.

Ordinances covering street openings and their resurfacing, plus maintenance of sidewalks and curbs by property owners, "should be given consideration at an early date."

One of the major accomplishments of 1966 came when the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development give preliminary approval to a proposed low - rent housing project of 260 units for East Liverpool, the mayor commented.

During 1966, the city purchased three new police cruisers, a fire chief's car, a snowblower and a street sweeper and also let contracts for a dump truck, ash spreader and pickup truck for the street department, the mayor reported.

The city bought and erected 151 new stop signs and completed the Ceramic Annex parking lot on E. 4th St., he said. Engineering has been completed for a State Highway Department project for improvement of Lisbon St. (Route 267) and a contract should be let soon for construction of a new auto-pedestrian ramp to tie together the two dead - end sections of W. 9th St., he said.

Willshaw reported that of 19 projects proposed to Council at the start of 1966, 10 were completed, six are being worked on, one was found not feasible and two still are being considered.

THE MAJOR accomplishments, he said, were:

Purchase of 574 new parking meters; acquisition of a new city garage and start of a regular maintenance program for vehicles; purchase of a new landfill dump on the Y. & O. Rd. promising a disposal site for the next 50 years; completion of easements for sewering of the East End Run when federal funds are available; installation of 2,400 feet of guardrails.

Establishment of the post of "Meter Maid" supervisor; a revision in the employe vacation schedule; enactment of ordinances for weed control and towaway of abandoned vehicles, and establishment of three new playgrounds and two new ball fields by the City Park Commission.

Commenting on the mayor's report, Murray said he hopes the city will begin work soon on the East End Run project. If funds are not available at one time for the massive project, it could be handled for a 10-to15-year period, Murray commented.

He recommended that Council confer with the finance committee soon on recommendations for items to be included in the 1967 appropriation ordinance. Murray pointed out wage requests have been given to Council by most city employes.

Pottery Official Gets Vacancy On City Park Board

Burchfield Cartwright of Elysian Way, an executive of the Homer Laughlin China Co., has been appointed to a four-year term on the Board of Thompson Park Commissioners to replace William H. Vodrey Jr., who asked not to be named again, Mayor George E. Willshaw said today.

The other members of the commission are Judge Louis Tobin, whose term runs through 1959; W. Leland Thompson, who will serve through 1968, and Louis Yanni, whose term runs out at the end of 1967.

The mayor will make one more appointment to fill a term which expired at the end of 1966.

The appointment of Mrs. Ila Finney Johnson ran out on the Board of Health. The terms are for five years. The other members of the board are Dr. J. Keith Rugh, G. Frank Dales, Dr. C. M. Mayberry and Paul Zehnder.

Jack Ruby And The Law

Whether Jack Ruby was a mixed-up little bungler who appointed himself executioner of Lee Harvey Oswald, or a slippery operator who wanted the assassin of President Kennedy killed before he talked too much will never be known now for sure.

Ruby has died of cancer.

Hope of finding out his real motive for killing Oswald has died with him.

He will be recorded in history as an enigmatic figure — either an accomplice or bungler. It won't matter.

He was not only an enigma in his own person, but he confronted society with a monstrous enigma. If and when its implications are comprehended, they may set off a nationwide howl of laughter over the legal profession's ability to split hairs that don't exist.

A television audience numbered in millions watched Jack Ruby step out of a crowd and murder Oswald.

It was the first time in history a capital crime had been committed in full view of a mass audience.

Yet, when Ruby's inevitable conviction for a crime he had committed in full view of his countrymen was reversed last October by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, one of the contentions was that witnesses to a charged offense cannot serve as jurors.

Another contention was that testimony by a Dallas policeman that Ruby hod told him he intended to kill Oswalt could not be admitted because a state law requires all confessions to be "voluntary."

If Ruby had lived, he would have given Texas law and Texas lawyers ample opportunity to dramatize further incongruities.

He did the law a favor by taking it out of its predicament.

Position On A Hot Spot

A "position paper" on Vietnam being prepared by Republicans in the House of Representatives could turn out to be a political death warrant.

This could happen if an ultra-belligerent faction in Republican membership in the House seizes the upper hand for the purpose of embarrassing President Johnson.

There is no popular acceptance for ultra-belligerence in this unpopular war. There was no acceptance for it in 1964 when Sen. Goldwater thought it was good politics to brandish a sword.

There is no acceptance for it now when President Johnson has tried unsuccessful to placate the war hawks by doing what Sen. Goldwater urged in his campaign for the presidency.

House Republicans say they want to clarify the nation's position.

No one can deny the position needs clarification.

It never has been made clear that President Johnson's predicament was created by his own words when he was sent by President Kennedy to Vietnam in 1961.

When he returned, he urged military intervention.

Intervention grew and grew, until the United States became the chief belligerent in an Asiatic war it could not fight to the hilt without risking World War III yet did not dare to lose.

What happened did not represent only confusion inside the Democratic party.

The confusion was shared by Democrats and Republicans.

Democrats are as anxious to clear it up as Republicans. Democratic Sen. Mansfield surely is as anxious to have it cleared up as any of his clenched-fist colleagues who are offended by his views on conciliation.

Republicans are similarly undecided; they have no common view. This is why the forthcoming "position paper" on Vietnam could turn out to be a political disaster.

It could embarrass Republicans more than the Johnson administration.

Christmas In Italy

By Truman Twill

Going to Italy in December was a crazy idea.

But everything was fine—the weather, the arrangements and Christmas in Italy.

Christmas in Italy . . .

For vacationers who don't like heat, crowded hotels and competition for attention in restaurants, a December vacation in Italy couldn't be beaten.

It rained one day in three weeks.

Hotels gave us their best rooms.

Restaurants treated us like royalty.

The trans-Atlantic planes were only one-third full. Stewards rearranged seating charts to give everybody good seats. On the night flight across the Atlantic, they took out arm rests on the seats, to enable passengers to lie down in what was close to the size of a bed.

Everybody was glad to see us and make us want to come back.

Even in northern Italy, which is in the latitude of New England, temperatures were mild. Oranges were growing. Roses were blooming.

As we went south, eventually ending up in beautiful Palermo at the northwest corner of Sicily.

The climate was wonderful.

But it wasn't the climate that made us want to go back to Italy.

It wasn't scenery, nor art, nor historic places.

It was the Italian people. Everything we had heard about them was confirmed.

They are beautiful to see.

Their enjoyment of life is so palpable, so unaffected, it makes a visitor ashamed of his prejudices, hatreds and fantods.

They are imbued with a sense of beauty from the moment of awareness — beautiful mountains, cities, monuments, architecture, seacoasts.

Their devotion to beauty is shown in endless perfection of design, in lavish use of flowers, in parks and plazas, in the way they treat their attractive children, in their own pleasant faces and ready laughter.

They take time to live delightfully because they are delighted to be alive.

Where else would masterpieces of art be reproduced on the backs of bus seats and in train compartments for travelers to admire?

Flowers are everywhere. Cities are laid out to make the most of spacious squares and ornate fountains. Statuary is as commonplace as filling stations in the United States.

Going to Italy in December may have been a crazy idea, but sharing Christmas with the Italians was the best idea we ever had.

Being with them any time would be a privilege. Being with them for Christmas, seeing tinsel on palm trees, fantastic theme decorations on the streets in Rome, flowers on gondolas in Venice, going shopping in the Christmas rush, Italian style, viewing creches in cathedrals, wishing and being wished "Buo Natale," being in a country where good will toward men has become a national characteristic — it was wonderful.

In case anyone wonders, a family reunion was involved. The Twills did not run out on Christmas at home. They went halfway to have a family Christmas abroad.

Christmas in Italy was wonderful. We want to go back next year.

The 21-Day Rule

WASHINGTON

A decision that could vitally affect the course of legislation in the 90th Congress will be made next Monday when House Democrats hold their presession caucus.

They will decide whether to try to retain the 21-day rule or discard it.

The rule puts a limit of 21 days on the time the Rules Committee may block House action on legislation approved by other committees. It was adopted originally at the insistence of speaker Sam Rayburn to protect President John F. Kennedy's legislative program from strangulation by the Rules Committee then dominated by conservatives. It has been retained at the insistence of the Democratic leadership.

BUT LAST YEAR'S election results made the rule less appealing to its original sponsors. Among other things, the elections vacated the seats of Rules Chairman Howard W. Smith, a conservative Virginia Democrat, and James W. Trimble, an Arkansas moderate.

Democrats held 10 seats on the Rules Committee last year and Republicans 5. The ideological division was 8 to 7 in favor of the liberals, although there were times when the reverse was true, and the 21-day rule was used in several occasions.

The lineup in the new Congress will be 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans. Democrats plan to fill their two vacancies with liberals. Theoretically that would give the Democratic leadership a 9-6 voting edge on most legislation, or at worst 8 to 7. The new chairman, Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., has voted in the past with the 5 Republicans and probably will continue to do so.

With that strong grip on the committee, the leadership sees no point in retaining the 21-day rule. It could be used to force House votes on legislation the leaders want bottled up by the Rules Committee.

Conservatives will be in numerical control of some committees this year and might kick over the traces and approve bills the administration doesn't want. In that event, an unfettered Rules Committee could serve as a graveyard.

Rep. Richard M. Bolling, D-Mo., one of the original champions of the 21-day rule and a leading spokesman for the liberals, sees no reason to retain the rule.

"WE DON'T NEED it and we don't want it if we get a strong grip on the Rules Committee," Bolling said.

Speaker John W. McCormack and Democratic Leader Carl Albert reportedly agree with Bolling, although they have made no formal statements to that effect. Next Monday's caucus probably will bow to the wishes of McCormack and Albert.

Whether the rule is retained or junked is up to the House itself. It will make the final decision when the new rules are adopted at next Tuesday's opening session.

Conservatives who opposed the rule in the past now see some merit in it if it is changed. They would like to remove the speaker's arbitrary authority to call up or hold back legislation side tracked by the Rules Committee for 21 days. The speaker now has sole power to decide when the rule shall be used.

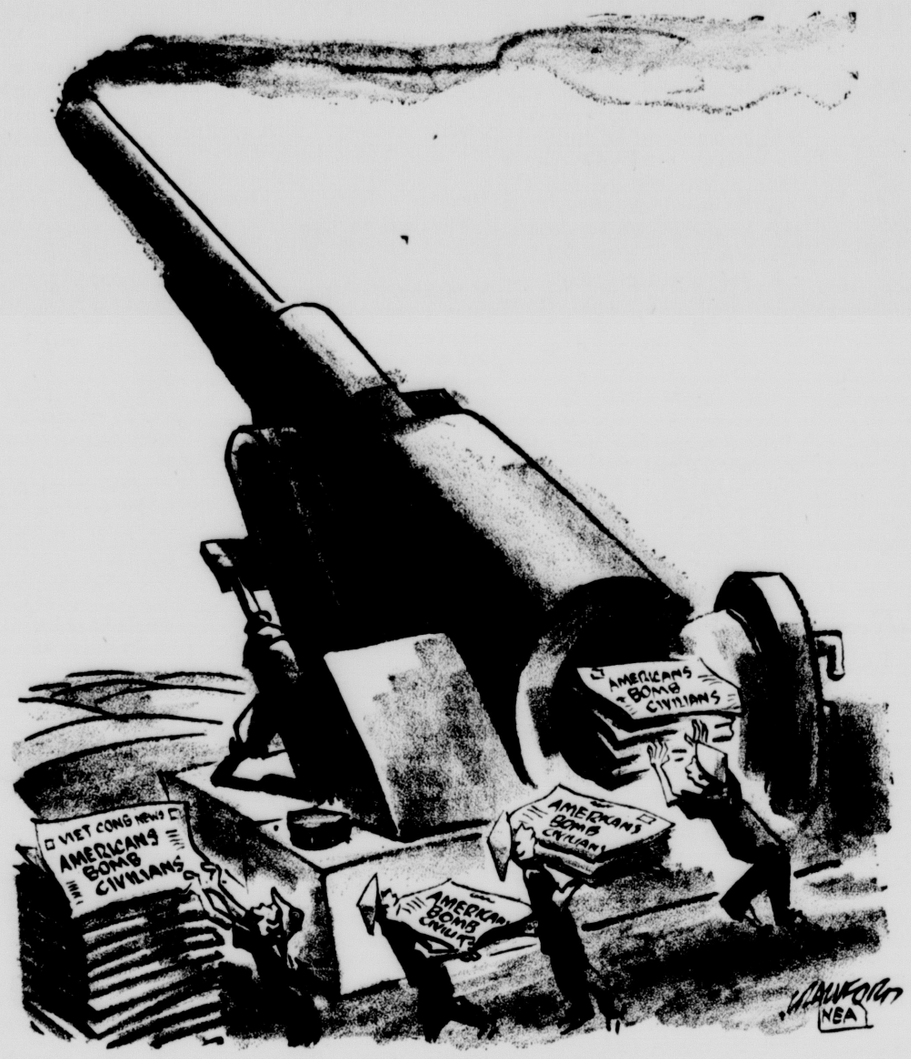
Propaganda Barrage



Bobby Backed FBI 'Bug' View

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — The saga of the spike mike, the bug and the telephone tap has just begun though the public quarrel of powerful men in high places appears ended.

Victor Riesel

Without electronic surveillance and wire intrusions, the federal intelligence community now finds it can't cope with the vast Mafia network—which in recent days has snatched at least one corporation lawyer specializing in labor and has murdered at least 10 labor officials in the past several years.

The FBI, the Internal Revenue Service, the Narcotics Bureau, the Labor Department's Compliance division and the others in the "community" are under strict orders from Acting Attorney General Clark not to spike, bug or tap unless it is a matter of life and death or national security.

Yet even the embattled Bob Kennedy said in a little-known document on Sept. 25, 1963, that:

"If we are to make maximum progress in our drive on organized crime, I'm convinced that we need legislation to permit the use of wiretapping by law enforcement officials. The urgency for revision of the present and ineffective provision of the wiretapping statute is emphasized by the fact that the latest electronic improvements are easily available to the criminal. The advanages these can give him over law enforcement officers are plain . . . "

IN THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT at that time was a central file of 25,000 Cosa Nostra corporations. It was begun in the late '50s at the direction of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, whose men also compiled a 250-page, two-volume report on the fantastic reaches of the Mafia.

The supremely confidential books were rigidly controlled and narrowly circulated. Each set was numbered and then called in by the director for fear of leakage to corrupt regional officials. In those reports and in subsequent documents, there first became available the detailed knowledge of the full extent of the Mafia's commercial crimes.

To get what the jungle jargon calls the "edge" on legitimate businessmen, the Mafia firms had to infiltrate and control hundreds of local unions. This was accomplished despite the ponderous courage and opposition of AFL-CIO President George Meany and some of his national colleagues.

IN THAT LIST, which most certainly has grown since 1958 or '59, there were 100,000 names, half of whom are in the executive echelon and mingle regularly with the respectable commercial and industrial worlds. There are another 25,000 "troops" or "enforcers."

One of the simplest yardsticks of the Cosa Nostra infiltration into labor is the realization that some 1,300 of its top men, as listed on the secret roster, have directed relations with or dominate unions in a score of fields.

Characteristic of this Cosa Nostra "corporation-ism" today, distinguished from the goonery of a quarter century ago, is the nature of its crimes. By and large today they are commercial crimes involving billions of dollars.

THE CRIMES AGAINST the individual or property make bloody good news stories, and make Chicago appear gory. They are rough and headline-making. But the weighty influence on the nation springs from the syndicate's operations in such fields as oil and gas explorations and exploitation, cotton growing and even mining, as well as the garden variety vending machine and night club and food processing business.

The mob has the money and manpower to hire the best electronic brains to protect itself and tap the tappers, bug the buggers and counterspy against the FBI and IRS. Bob Kennedy says so flatly in his 1963 report.

However, under the restrictive directives issued by former Attorney General Katzenbach and Mr. Clark, the FBI and the intelligence community which Sen. Kennedy praises so highly in his document are deprived of the wizardry of modern crime fighting. Thus, when the 13 alleged Mafia national chiefs were picked up in a New York restaurant last fall, the federal men had to wait for a full report from the highly effective New York City Police Department Central Investigation Bureau.

THE FBI AND OTHERS, now under government restrictions, are developing what are called "live informants."

Make no mistake on this score. Here are an increasing number of informers cracking open the murky inner dens of the Cosa Nostra. These informers increase as the older Mafia "Dons" die off and the more careless younger Mafiosi replace them. However, this process will take a decade or more.

The live informer never will replace the spike mike. True the latter is an invasion of privacy but so is the informer. It all depends on whose privacy is gored and what sacrifices the public is willing to chance making in exchange for modern protection against modern crime.

The people will have their opportunity to make so sensitive a decision soon enough. Within 60 or 90 days a series of indictments on the commercial and labor crime front will make the headlines.

Then the question of whether it was worth it can be decided—in the courts and in the market place.

CPA Would Balk At U. S. Method

No corporation that handled its books as does the United States government would be given a clean bill of health by a certified public accountant.

Income from sale of assets is added in with receipts from taxes. Trust funds are used to meet current operating expenses.

So, it's amazing to read that Secretary of Labor Wirtz in a public speech has criticized members of the press for taking note of inflationary effects of the federal budget with its big deficits and for not attaching greater significance to a different form of budget accounting which for the time-being shows a slight surplus.

There is no doubt that a "credibility gap" has arisen with respect to government finances.

Today three kinds of budgets are used by federal officials. These are called the "administrative budget," the "cash budget" and the "national income accounts budget."

It so happens that the first one shows a deficit of $2.3 billion for fiscal year 1966 and the "cash budget" carries a $3.3 billion deficit, while the "national income accounts budget" has a surplus of $900 million.

Secretary Wirtz reflects the position of the administration, which would like everybody to accept the budget formula that in a particular year shows a surplus. But public confidence is not built upon such a fragile foundation.

Thus, the "national income accounts budget" includes all federal trust funds such as those for social security and highway construction. But in any private corporation, the income of a pension fund or any other trust set up for the benefit of the employees would never be mixed in with the receipts or outlays of the corporation itself.

IT IS TRUE there has been much talk about deficit spending as inflationary. The basic cause of this happens to be found in the Department of Labor, itself.

Although the administration has been urging both management and labor to adhere to certain "guidelines," labor unions have ignored these in forcing wage increases. As a result, management has found itself compelled steadily to increase prices in order to meet higher and higher wage costs.

Inflation, to be sure, means in a practical sense a drop in the purchasing power of the dollar. As prices rise, the dollar shrinks in value. This has been true for several years.

The government comes into the picture by spending a lot of money to stimulate the economy at a time when restraint should be exercised in the matter of government expenditures.

All this really has nothing to do with what title is given to the budget. It has more to do with the outflow of funds, including the expenditure of money that should have been held in trust funds instead of being used for government operating expenses.

Another device used by the administration is what is known as "accelerated payments." Taxes which accrue in the calendar year 1966 are being largely collected during that particular period instead of in the subsequent year, which was the custom some years ago. As tax collections from companies as well as individuals are moved into the current year, receipts show a substantial increase because, in effect, taxes from two different years are being consolidated in one year's account. Sooner or later, the acceleration is completed, but by that time some other device — such as a safe of assets — will be resorted to in order to bring in enough cash to meet government expenses.

THE WHOLE system of government measurement of its financial position has long been regarded as unsatisfactory by people in the accounting and auditing profession.

It now is becoming apparent to the public that the main purpose in the change of name or formula in each newly invented budget is merely to make a better showing on paper.

This is why there is a "credibility gap" about government finances, and one budget name will not be an improvement over another as long as the government spends more than it takes in and even uses trust funds to pay its bills.

Position On A Hot Spot

A "position paper" on Vietnam being prepared by Republicans in the House of Representatives could turn out to be a political death warrant.

This could happen if an ultra-belligerent faction in Republican membership in the House seizes the upper hand for the purpose of embarrassing President Johnson.

There is no popular acceptance for ultra-belligerence in this unpopular war. There was no acceptance for it in 1964 when Sen. Goldwater thought it was good politics to brandish a sword.

There is no acceptance for it now when President Johnson has tried unsuccessful to placate the war hawks by doing what Sen. Goldwater urged in his campaign for the presidency.

House Republicans say they want to clarify the nation's position.

No one can deny the position needs clarification.

It never has been made clear that President Johnson's predicament was created by his own words when he was sent by President Kennedy to Vietnam in 1961.

When he returned, he urged military intervention.

Intervention grew and grew, until the United States became the chief belligerent in an Asiatic war it could not fight to the hilt without risking World War III yet did not dare to lose.

What happened did not represent only confusion inside the Democratic party.

The confusion was shared by Democrats and Republicans.

Democrats are as anxious to clear it up as Republicans. Democratic Sen. Mansfield surely is as anxious to have it cleared up as any of his clenched-fist colleagues who are offended by his views on conciliation.

Republicans are similarly undecided; they have no common view. This is why the forthcoming "position paper" on Vietnam could turn out to be a political disaster.

It could embarrass Republicans more than the Johnson administration.

Christmas In Italy

By Truman Twill

Going to Italy in December was a crazy idea.

But everything was fine—the weather, the arrangements and Christmas in Italy.

Christmas in Italy . . .

For vacationers who don't like heat, crowded hotels and competition for attention in restaurants, a December vacation in Italy couldn't be beaten.

It rained one day in three weeks.

Hotels gave us their best rooms.

Restaurants treated us like royalty.

The trans-Atlantic planes were only one-third full. Stewards rearranged seating charts to give everybody good seats. On the night flight across the Atlantic, they took out arm rests on the seats, to enable passengers to lie down in what was close to the size of a bed.

Everybody was glad to see us and make us want to come back.

Even in northern Italy, which is in the latitude of New England, temperatures were mild. Oranges were growing. Roses were blooming.

As we went south, eventually ending up in beautiful Palermo at the northwest corner of Sicily.

The climate was wonderful.

But it wasn't the climate that made us want to go back to Italy.

It wasn't scenery, nor art, nor historic places.

It was the Italian people. Everything we had heard about them was confirmed.

They are beautiful to see.

Their enjoyment of life is so palpable, so unaffected, it makes a visitor ashamed of his prejudices, hatreds and fantods.

They are imbued with a sense of beauty from the moment of awareness — beautiful mountains, cities, monuments, architecture, seacoasts.

Their devotion to beauty is shown in endless perfection of design, in lavish use of flowers, in parks and plazas, in the way they treat their attractive children, in their own pleasant faces and ready laughter.

They take time to live delightfully because they are delighted to be alive.

Where else would masterpieces of art be reproduced on the backs of bus seats and in train compartments for travelers to admire?

Flowers are everywhere. Cities are laid out to make the most of spacious squares and ornate fountains. Statuary is as commonplace as filling stations in the United States.

Going to Italy in December may have been a crazy idea, but sharing Christmas with the Italians was the best idea we ever had.

Being with them any time would be a privilege. Being with them for Christmas, seeing tinsel on palm trees, fantastic theme decorations on the streets in Rome, flowers on gondolas in Venice, going shopping in the Christmas rush, Italian style, viewing creches in cathedrals, wishing and being wished "Buo Natale," being in a country where good will toward men has become a national characteristic — it was wonderful.

In case anyone wonders, a family reunion was involved. The Twills did not run out on Christmas at home. They went halfway to have a family Christmas abroad.

Christmas in Italy was wonderful. We want to go back next year.

The 21-Day Rule

By William F. Arbogast

WASHINGTON

A decision that could vitally affect the course of legislation in the 90th Congress will be made next Monday when House Democrats hold their presession caucus.

They will decide whether to try to retain the 21-day rule or discard it.

The rule puts a limit of 21 days on the time the Rules Committee may block House action on legislation approved by other committees. It was adopted originally at the insistence of speaker Sam Rayburn to protect President John F. Kennedy's legislative program from strangulation by the Rules Committee then dominated by conservatives. It has been retained at the insistence of the Democratic leadership.

BUT LAST YEAR'S election results made the rule less appealing to its original sponsors. Among other things, the elections vacated the seats of Rules Chairman Howard W. Smith, a conservative Virginia Democrat, and James W. Trimble, an Arkansas moderate.

Democrats held 10 seats on the Rules Committee last year and Republicans 5. The ideological division was 8 to 7 in favor of the liberals, although there were times when the reverse was true, and the 21-day rule was used in several occasions.

The lineup in the new Congress will be 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans. Democrats plan to fill their two vacancies with liberals. Theoretically that would give the Democratic leadership a 9-6 voting edge on most legislation, or at worst 8 to 7. The new chairman, Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., has voted in the past with the 5 Republicans and probably will continue to do so.

With that strong grip on the committee, the leadership sees no point in retaining the 21-day rule. It could be used to force House votes on legislation the leaders want bottled up by the Rules Committee.

Conservatives will be in numerical control of some committees this year and might kick over the traces and approve bills the administration doesn't want. In that event, an unfettered Rules Committee could serve as a graveyard.

Rep. Richard M. Bolling, D-Mo., one of the original champions of the 21-day rule and a leading spokesman for the liberals, sees no reason to retain the rule.

"WE DON'T NEED it and we don't want it if we get a strong grip on the Rules Committee," Bolling said.

Speaker John W. McCormack and Democratic Leader Carl Albert reportedly agree with Bolling, although they have made no formal statements to that effect. Next Monday's caucus probably will bow to the wishes of McCormack and Albert.

Whether the rule is retained or junked is up to the House itself. It will make the final decision when the new rules are adopted at next Tuesday's opening session.

Conservatives who opposed the rule in the past now see some merit in it if it is changed. They would like to remove the speaker's arbitrary authority to call up or hold back legislation side tracked by the Rules Committee for 21 days. The speaker now has sole power to decide when the rule shall be used.

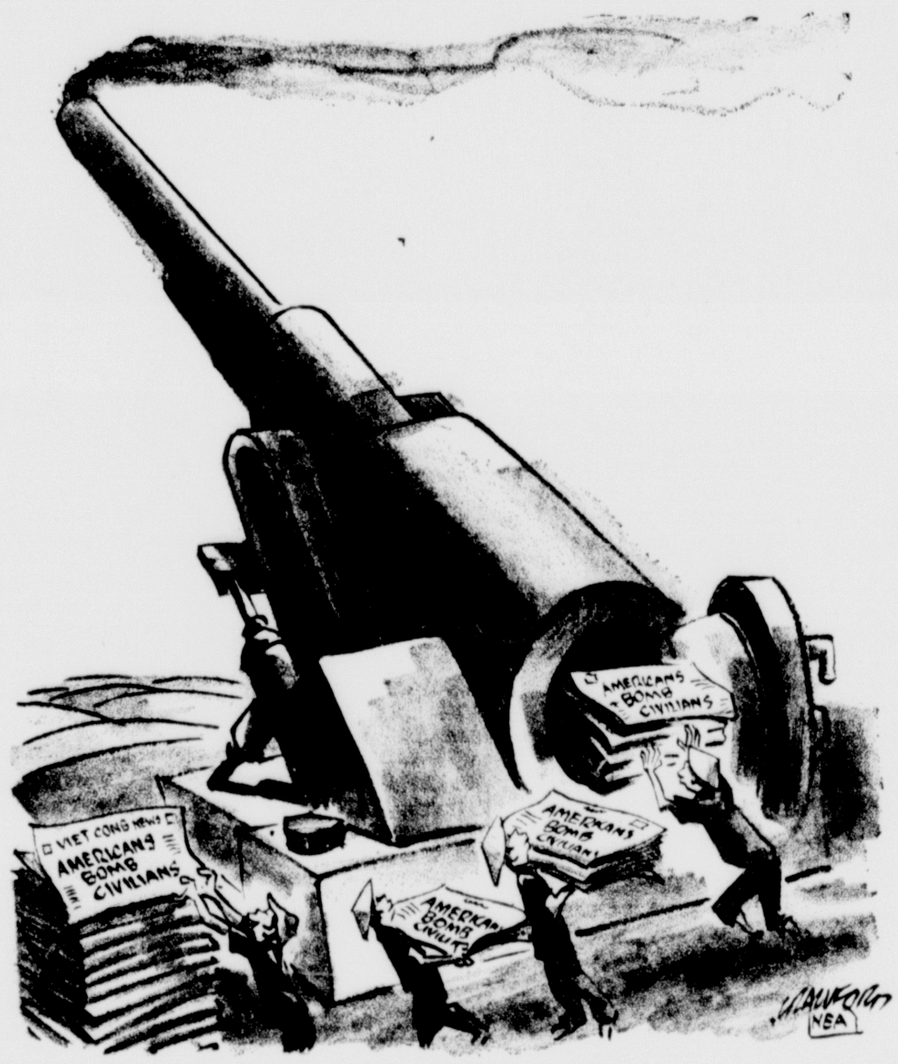
Propaganda Barrage



Bobby Backed FBI 'Bug' View

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON — The saga of the spike mike, the bug and the telephone tap has just begun though the public quarrel of powerful men in high places appears ended.

Victor Riesel

Without electronic surveillance and wire intrusions, the federal intelligence community now finds it can't cope with the vast Mafia network—which in recent days has snatched at least one corporation lawyer specializing in labor and has murdered at least 10 labor officials in the past several years.

The FBI, the Internal Revenue Service, the Narcotics Bureau, the Labor Department's Compliance division and the others in the "community" are under strict orders from Acting Attorney General Clark not to spike, bug or tap unless it is a matter of life and death or national security.

Yet even the embattled Bob Kennedy said in a little-known document on Sept. 25, 1963, that:

"If we are to make maximum progress in our drive on organized crime, I'm convinced that we need legislation to permit the use of wiretapping by law enforcement officials. The urgency for revision of the present and ineffective provision of the wiretapping statute is emphasized by the fact that the latest electronic improvements are easily available to the criminal. The advanages these can give him over law enforcement officers are plain . . ."

IN THE JUSTICE DEPARTMENT at that time was a central file of 25,000 Cosa Nostra corporations. It was begun in the late '50s at the direction of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, whose men also compiled a 250-page, two-volume report on the fantastic reaches of the Mafia.

The supremely confidential books were rigidly controlled and narrowly circulated. Each set was numbered and then called in by the director for fear of leakage to corrupt regional officials. In those reports and in subsequent documents, there first became available the detailed knowledge of the full extent of the Mafia's commercial crimes.

To get what the jungle jargon calls the "edge" on legitimate businessmen, the Mafia firms had to infiltrate and control hundreds of local unions. This was accomplished despite the ponderous courage and opposition of AFL-CIO President George Meany and some of his national colleagues.

IN THAT LIST, which most certainly has grown since 1958 or '59, there were 100,000 names, half of whom are in the executive echelon and mingle regularly with the respectable commercial and industrial worlds. There are another 25,000 "troops" or "enforcers."

One of the simplest yardsticks of the Cosa Nostra infiltration into labor is the realization that some 1,300 of its top men, as listed on the secret roster, have directed relations with or dominate unions in a score of fields.

Characteristic of this Cosa Nostra "corporation-ism" today, distinguished from the goonery of a quarter century ago, is the nature of its crimes. By and large today they are commercial crimes involving billions of dollars.

THE CRIMES AGAINST the individual or property make bloody good news stories, and make Chicago appear gory. They are rough and headline-making. But the weighty influence on the nation springs from the syndicate's operations in such fields as oil and gas explorations and exploitation, cotton growing and even mining, as well as the garden variety vending machine and night club and food processing business.

The mob has the money and manpower to hire the best electronic brains to protect itself and tap the tappers, bug the buggers and counterspy against the FBI and IRS. Bob Kennedy says so flatly in his 1963 report.

However, under the restrictive directives issued by former Attorney General Katzenbach and Mr. Clark, the FBI and the intelligence community which Sen. Kennedy praises so highly in his document are deprived of the wizardry of modern crime fighting. Thus, when the 13 alleged Mafia national chiefs were picked up in a New York restaurant last fall, the federal men had to wait for a full report from the highly effective New York City Police Department Central Investigation Bureau.

THE FBI AND OTHERS, now under government restrictions, are developing what are called "live informants."

Make no mistake on this score. Here are an increasing number of informers cracking open the murky inner dens of the Cosa Nostra. These informers increase as the older Mafia "Dons" die off and the more careless younger Mafiosi replace them. However, this process will take a decade or more.

The live informer never will replace the spike mike. True the latter is an invasion of privacy but so is the informer. It all depends on whose privacy is gored and what sacrifices the public is willing to chance making in exchange for modern protection against modern crime.

The people will have their opportunity to make so sensitive a decision soon enough. Within 60 or 90 days a series of indictments on the commercial and labor crime front will make the headlines.

Then the question of whether it was worth it can be decided—in the courts and in the market place.

Bookkeeping

By David Lawrence

CPA Would Balk At U. S. Method

No corporation that handled its books as does the United States government would be given a clean bill of health by a certified public accountant.

Income from sale of assets is added in with receipts from taxes. Trust funds are used to meet current operating expenses.

So, it's amazing to read that Secretary of Labor Wirtz in a public speech has criticized members of the press for taking note of inflationary effects of the federal budget with its big deficits and for not attaching greater significance to a different form of budget accounting which for the time-being shows a slight surplus.

There is no doubt that a "credibility gap" has arisen with respect to government finances.

Today three kinds of budgets are used by federal officials. These are called the "administrative budget," the "cash budget" and the "national income accounts budget."

It so happens that the first one shows a deficit of $2.3 billion for fiscal year 1966 and the "cash budget" carries a $3.3 billion deficit, while the "national income accounts budget" has a surplus of $900 million.

Secretary Wirtz reflects the position of the administration, which would like everybody to accept the budget formula that in a particular year shows a surplus. But public confidence is not built upon such a fragile foundation.

Thus, the "national income accounts budget" includes all federal trust funds such as those for social security and highway construction. But in any private corporation, the income of a pension fund or any other trust set up for the benefit of the employees would never be mixed in with the receipts or outlays of the corporation itself.

IT IS TRUE there has been much talk about deficit spending as inflationary. The basic cause of this happens to be found in the Department of Labor, itself.

Although the administration has been urging both management and labor to adhere to certain "guidelines," labor unions have ignored these in forcing wage increases. As a result, management has found itself compelled steadily to increase prices in order to meet higher and higher wage costs.

Inflation, to be sure, means in a practical sense a drop in the purchasing power of the dollar. As prices rise, the dollar shrinks in value. This has been true for several years.

The government comes into the picture by spending a lot of money to stimulate the economy at a time when restraint should be exercised in the matter of government expenditures.

All this really has nothing to do with what title is given to the budget. It has more to do with the outflow of funds, including the expenditure of money that should have been held in trust funds instead of being used for government operating expenses.

Another device used by the administration is what is known as "accelerated payments." Taxes which accrue in the calendar year 1966 are being largely collected during that particular period instead of in the subsequent year, which was the custom some years ago. As tax collections from companies as well as individuals are moved into the current year, receipts show a substantial increase because, in effect, taxes from two different years are being consolidated in one year's account. Sooner or later, the acceleration is completed, but by that time some other device — such as a safe of assets — will be resorted to in order to bring in enough cash to meet government expenses.

THE WHOLE system of government measurement of its financial position has long been regarded as unsatisfactory by people in the accounting and auditing profession.

It now is becoming apparent to the public that the main purpose in the change of name or formula in each newly invented budget is merely to make a better showing on paper.

This is why there is a "credibility gap" about government finances, and one budget name will not be an improvement over another as long as the government spends more than it takes in and even uses trust funds to pay its bills.

Judge Says No Restrictions On Reporters At Speck Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — There will be restrictions on newsmen and photographers covering the trial in Peoria of Richard Speck, Judge Herbert C. Paschen says.

However, he said Tuesday, specific guidelines will not be formulated until it is known how many newsmen will cover the trial.

Speck, 25, is charged with the stabbing and strangling of eight student nurses July 14 in their Chicago dormitory.

Speck's counsel, Public Defender Gerald Getty, was granted a request for a change of location for the trial. Getty contended a fair trial in Cook County would be impossible because of news coverage given the murders.

Judge Paschen said photographers and television cameramen may be prohibited from taking pictures on the second floor, where the court-room in which Speck is to be tried is located.

The courtroom holds about 80 persons. Because of its smallness, Judge Paschen said, identification cards may be given to newsmen. Reporters also may be restricted from leaving or entering the courtroom while the trial is in progress.

The number of newsmen will have to be limited, he said, because "we must save some room for the public."

Veteran Policeman Kills Wife, Himself

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — A 10-year veteran of the Lorain Police Department shot his wife with his service revolver Tuesday and then turned the weapon on himself, according to the coroner's office.

Coroner Paul J. Kopsch ruled murder and suicide in the deaths of Patrolman James P. Hritsko, 37, and his wife, Marlene, 33, parents of five children.

Deputy Duties Begun By Robert Wellington

LISBON — Robert Wellington, 39, a Wellsville policeman for 15 years, began work Monday as a field deputy for Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan at $480 a month.

His resignation from the Wellsville department was announced Dec. 15. The new deputy fills a vacancy created when James R. Gause of Hanoverton R. D. 1 resigned last month to become an investigator for the prosecuting attorney's office.

Wellington is married and has four sons, all in school. The family resides at 1614 Commerce St., Wellsville.

February Trial Set After Not Guilty Plea

LISBON — Larry A. Wilson, 18, of Hanoverton R. D. 1, pleaded not guilty Tuesday in Columbiana County Southwest Court to a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent and to two counts of larceny.

The youth is accused of driving a car owned by Joseph Hruby of Salineville R. D. 1 and of taking a plastic waste basket and a shotgun belonging to Hruby. The offenses occurred last October.

Judge J. L. MacDonald continued Wilson's bond for a trial some time in February.

general appropriation is approved.

It calls for $496,066 in the general fund. All funds total $523,311. This does not include federal funds which are assumed fully appropriated when projects are approved.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk, explained the board is allowed to appropriate up to one-quarter of the total appropriation, but the total figures do not amount to this.

She presented the financial report which shows $95,868.39, general fund; $30,269.40, bond retirement; $7,976.47, lunch room; $951.75, Improvement Fund No. 1; $244.83, MDTA; $186.48, night schools; deficit of $541.97, uniform supplies; $66,772.62, repair and maintenance, and $34,840.36, federal funds.

Miss Liebschner said all the money is encumbered. During a discussion on the finances, it was pointed out that at the present rate the board will be short of money before December.

Members then adopted the new rental fees for the auditoriums, visual education rooms, libraries, general purpose rooms, Westgate cafeteria and classrooms.

THE NEW fees represent a 50 per cent increase. The property committee was requested at the last meeting to investigate the possibility of increasing the fees because of the financial situation.

For example, a commercial event at Memorial Auditorium will cost $150 a night plus custodial fees. A community event at the auditorium will be $90 plus the custodial hours, while a rehearsal will be $30 plus the custodial fees.

The rental of a classroom in any building will be $7.50 plus custodial hours.

All rentals are payable a week in advance of the date of use. It was explained that parent - teacher associations will not have to pay for the use of the buildings for regular meetings.

The new fees will be in effect for the present calendar year.

The board voted to reject two bids received at public auction for the sale of Klondyke School. One was for $1,500 and the other for $1,000. The board had hoped to receive $5,000 for the building, since it was appraised at $10,000.

The board now will deal privately for the sale or rental of the property. Supt. Paul Blair was asked to have letters sent to various businesses and industries informing them the building is for sale. Anyone interested can contact Blair or members of the board.

—:—

THE BOARD also approved the appointment of Sgt. 1C John T. Isaac of Toronto for the Junior ROTC program. The program, already under way in the high school, calls for an officer and two enlisted men.

The board had been unable to obtain retired enlisted men who qualified, with another still needed.

Blair said 126 boys are enrolled, although there may be more in the second semester. Uniforms have arrived, but have not been distributed, and the weapons still are awaited. The boys have been receiving classroom work and have been drilling.

The board asked Blair to check with City Council on having the city curfew enforced.

A letter of congratulations will be sent to Kenneth H. Mooney on his appointment as captain of the Police Department. Smith said Mooney had been very helpful in the past relative to policing at Patterson Field.

Mrs. Dunlop thanked the members for their work the past year and said she is looking forward to the coming year. She pointed out the people must be "made cognizant of the fact that education must be better and better."

an individual's request in certain cases.

The sending of written reports to the board and other interested parties on all problems referred to the board for action, when such action is completed.

A chest X-ray and police clearance of all new school personnel hired, including teachers.

—:—

THOROUGH evaluation by school officials of requests to attend various gatherings prior to seeking the board's approval, and submission of reports on such meetings for which the expenses are paid by the board.

A related motion by Dr. Weller calling for the use of a substitute teacher whenever possible in instances where students are accompanied to the meetings also was approved.

Exceptions may be made in cases where a teacher contributes directly to a program, he stipulated.

The remaining 30 proposals were tabled for later consideration.

Teachers were employed as follows:

Vernetta D. Hawkins of Steubenville, for Jefferson School in Newell; Maryann Joy Farms of Steubenville, Dunbar School in Weirton; Connie J. Lowe of Burgettstown, Cove School in Weirton, and Richard Warren Gump of Fairmont, Weir Junior High School Industrial Arts.

William E. Goddard of Chester was hired as a janitor for Chester Junior High School.

The contract was signed with the Harry W. Trushel Construction Co. of Weirton for the renovation of the auditorium at Chester Junior High School at a cost of $15,974.

The company's bid had been accepted at the Oct. 31 meeting, contingent upon approval without changes by the state fire marshal.

Supt. Robert H. Hall reported last night that he had discussed the matter with the fire marshal and that no major changes were anticipated.

The installation of smoke detectors and a fire bell in the auditorium would be required, however, he added.

—:—

THE BOARD approved the acquisition of revised editions of textbooks.

A resolution was passed advocating passage of a law by state legislators providing for uniform insurance coverage relative to public use of school property.

Bills in connection with the hot lunch program in the county schools were ordered to be placed in separate categories and itemized in the future.

Jones was named as the board's representative to the county extension service committee.

Other discussions last night involved complaints of overcrowding at certain Weirton schols and the question of obtaining the services of an architectural consultant.

Cub Pack 137 of Pughtown was given permission to make use of the multi - purpose room at Oak Glen High School for a Blue and Gold banquet Feb. 11 or 25.

The request of Dominic Amedeo for a teacher to accompany students to a "Know Your State Government Day" program in Charleston March 6 was approved.

The reports of the school nurse, the 4-H club agent and the attendance director for December were received and approved.

A meeting of the board in the near future with Robert Hobbs, attendance director, relative to absenteeism of students and "problem children" was requested.

It was agreed that he should be contacted prior to the next regular meeting Jan. 16.

Projects

improvements to substations and the rebuilding of various distribution lines in the north Steubenville - Toronto area will cost an additional quarter-million dollars.

Welday said that a $235,000 project in the Mingo Junction-Georges Run area will increase substation capacity and increase the capability of the distribution system from 4,000 to 12,000 volts.

Welday pointed out that 14 miles of 69,000-volt line will be erected in the Captina Valley of southern Belmont County to serve a number of new coal mining operations. This project carries a $600,000 price tag.

A number of smaller installations will be carried out in connection with existing facilities in Cadiz, Dillonvale, Bellaire and Barnesville, total cost of which is $770,000.

"In order to carry out this work, we have purchased a number of new automatic line trucks, bucket trucks, air compressors and miscellaneous construction equipment at a cost of approximately $300,000."

—:—

A. N. PRENTICE of Canton, vice president and general manager of Ohio Power, said more than half the $119 million to be invested will go for expansion of power generation capacity.

The bulk of the $66.3-million slated for power plants will be spent at the new Cardinal installation at Brilliant and at the Muskingum River facility between Zanesville and Marietta.

"Our 53-county service territory in Ohio now includes more than a half-million customers and a population of nearly two million," Prentice said.

"And, all classifications of customers — residential, rural, commercial, industrial and others — are continuing to increase their requirements for electric service, particularly in the area of electric space heating for homes and commercial establishments."

He explained that in spite of steadily rising costs of equipment, tools, labor, taxes and interest on the huge amounts of capital required to keep ahead of spiraling demands for power, the company has never had an increase in its electric service rates.

"The cost to the consumer for the electricity he uses continues to decrease," he stated. "At the end of 1966, our residential customers were paying an average of just a fraction more than two cents per kilowatthour, and the average cost for all customers, including heavy industrial, was less than a penny."

He explained that this sort of record would not be possible "without the company's devotion to a policy of reducing operating expenses and increasing operating efficiencies at every opportunity." He added:

"Two factors of primary importance in the never - ending battle against rising costs of providing abundant and dependable electric service are: generation efficiency — that is, getting more energy from each pound of coal burned in the power plants — and transmission of huge blocks of power to points of usage."

Woman Hurt In Sideswipe

An area woman was injured in a sideswipe mishap in the West Point area early Tuesday afternoon, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A 1962 convertible operated by Floyd Thurman Angus, 53, of R. D. 1, and a 1962 station wagon driven by John W. Hiscox, 31, of Lisbon R. D. 1, collided on Route 518 about 3½ miles west of Route 45 at 12:15 p.m.

The two sideswiped in the center of the roadway, causing moderate damage to both vehicles. Violet Angus, 46, of R.D. 1, passenger in Angus' car, received injuries, officers said.

A school flasher warning signal by the Calcutta School was damaged when a truck drifted against it along Route 170, the patrol said.

School officials said the truck, owned by John Radella of Midland, drifted against the sign when the driver went into a store.

Auto Mishaps Rise By 10 In City For 1966

East Liverpool recorded 811 traffic accidents in 1966, an increase of 10 from the 801 1965, it was shown today in the police department's annual statistical summary.

The 1966 accidents injured 153 drivers and passengers, compared with 176 in the preceding year. Thirty-three pedestrians also were hurt in 1966. The city recorded three traffic deaths in 1966, the same total as in 1965.

The department logged 8,475 radio transmissions last year and recorded 858 arrests, including 34 for drunk driving and four for being in physical control of a vehicle while intoxicated.

The department filed 189 casualty reports, concerned primarily with persons injured or taken ill while on the streets or in a public place. It received 39 missing persons reports and listed 53 stolen cars — all recovered except one.

There were 115 burglaries, 250 minor thefts and 264 cases of vandalism. The department ordered 202 cars towed off the streets, mostly as a result of traffic mishaps.

A summary also was issued for December's activities. It showed 683 radio transmissions and 81 arrests, including two for drunken driving and one for being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated. There were 74 traffic mishaps, in which 17 motorists and one pedestrian were injured. Nineteen casualty reports were filed.

Three missing persons reports were filed. All three later returned home. Three auto thefts were reported, with all three recovered. Twenty cars were towed off the streets.

There were 16 burglaries last month, 26 petty thefts and 24 cases of vandalism.

Court Order Eyed To Limit Picketing

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— An official of the Youngstown Osteopathic Hospital says a court order may be sought to limit picketing which has interferred with deliveries of food and oxygen at the hospital.

Mrs. Florence Marsteller, hospital administrator, indicated the injunction might be requested after strikers and sympathizers three times turned back oxygen truck deliveries and barred one food truck Tuesday.

Hospital employes went out in their own cars and brought back food for patients and staff, but the hospital said a crisis could develop in oxygen supplies. It may be necessary to tap reserve supplies Thursday if no oxygen is delivered before then, hospital sources said.

The oxygen truck drivers refused to cross picket lines Tuesday.

5 Ohio Servicemen Killed In Viet Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department listed 72 more U.S. servicemen Tuesday as killed in action in the Vietnam War. Five were Ohioans.

Auto Mishaps Rise By 10 In City For 1966

East Liverpool recorded 811 traffic accidents in 1966, an increase of 10 from the 801 1965, it was shown today in the police department's annual statistical summary.

The 1966 accidents injured 153 drivers and passengers, compared with 176 in the preceding year. Thirty-three pedestrians also were hurt in 1966. The city recorded three traffic deaths in 1966, the same total as in 1965.

The department logged 8,475 radio transmissions last year and recorded 858 arrests, including 34 for drunk driving and four for being in physical control of a vehicle while intoxicated.

The department filed 189 casualty reports, concerned primarily with persons injured or taken ill while on the streets or in a public place. It received 39 missing persons reports and listed 53 stolen cars — all recovered except one.

There were 115 burglaries, 250 minor thefts and 264 cases of vandalism. The department ordered 202 cars towed off the streets, mostly as a result of traffic mishaps.

A summary also was issued for December's activities. It showed 683 radio transmissions and 81 arrests, including two for drunken driving and one for being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated. There were 74 traffic mishaps, in which 17 motorists and one pedestrian were injured. Nineteen casualty reports were filed.

Three missing persons reports were filed. All three later returned home. Three auto thefts were reported, with all three recovered. Twenty cars were towed off the streets.

There were 16 burglaries last month, 26 petty thefts and 24 cases of vandalism.

Court Order Eyed To Limit Picketing

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— An official of the Youngstown Osteopathic Hospital says a court order may be sought to limit picketing which has interferred with deliveries of food and oxygen at the hospital.

Mrs. Florence Marsteller, hospital administrator, indicated the injunction might be requested after strikers and sympathizers three times turned back oxygen truck deliveries and barred one food truck Tuesday.

Hospital employes went out in their own cars and brought back food for patients and staff, but the hospital said a crisis could develop in oxygen supplies. It may be necessary to tap reserve supplies Thursday if no oxygen is delivered before then, hospital sources said.

The oxygen truck drivers refused to cross picket lines Tuesday.

Hancock Sets Leaders For 'Dimes' Campaign

Community leaders who will direct the March of Dimes fight against birth defects in Hancock County during January were announced today by Richard Cowles, chairman of the campaign in the county.

Edwin F. Flowers is serving as chairman of the campaign in New Cumberland. Tony LaNeve is chairman of the Newell campaign and Alvin Fineman is chairman of the campaign in Chester.

Commenting on the month - long drive, Cowles said: "Until recently, the parents of many children born with birth defects heard only the heartbreaking answer from their doctors: 'There's nothing more we can do.'

"But now, thanks to the March of Dimes," he added, "there is a nationwide network of treatment and diagnostic centers where teams of experts deal with the medical, social and economic problems caused by birth defects.

"The work of these centers continually narrows the gap between research findings in the laboratory and their application to the problems of the birth defect patient."

Research, according to Cowles, is the major weapon of the future against birth defects which strike more than 250,000 babies each year in the United States. Much of the research program financed by the March of Dimes is directed toward genetics and other factors suspected of causing stillbirths, infant deaths and handicapping defects.

Doctors believe that certain birth defects can be prevented or minimized by promoting nationwide programs of prenatal care, arousing public concern, and thus stimulating community action, Cowles said.

"We feel sure that the people of Hancock County will not only join the March of Dimes this month," he commented, "but will volunteer to help with the prenatal care and other service programs of our local chapter."

Files TV Application

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Southern Broadcasting Co. has filed an application to operate an ultra high frequency television station, channel 64, in Cincinnati, the Federal Communications Commission reported Tuesday.

Ruby

Hospital in Dallas sometime between last Dec. 15 and 18, was made public for the first time Tuesday by Capitol Records at a news conference.

Jack Ruby said that his presence at the Dallas County jail resulted from his making an "illegal turn" behind a bus and winding up in the jail parking lot.

"Had I gone the way I was supposed to go — straight down Main Street — I would never have met this fate," he said.

Jack Ruby said that he always carried a gun with him "because of various altercations I had in my club."

In an exclusive report by Associated Press writer Bernard Gavzer Dec. 19, Ruby had said much the same thing. He was described in The Associated Press report as praying that he be given a final lie detector test so that people would be convinced there was no conspiracy involved in his killing of Oswald. He also maintained then that he never knew Oswald and that the killing was a blank in his mind.

The three-minute tape-recorded conversation will be part of a long-playing record entitled, "The Controversy: The Death and the Warren Report," being produced by Capitol.

Spokesmen for Capitol Records said the taping was made with the help of Earl Ruby who carried a recorder concealed in a dispatch case into the hospital room past police guards.

Capitol Records said Elmer Gertz, Ruby's attorney in Chicago, took part in the arrangements with the family, believing "if the public could hear Ruby's own voice there could be no question that he directly communited the facts as he remembered them."

Ruby was depicted as desirous that "the world know directly the facts concerning his participation and involvement."

A Capitol Records spokesman said part of the profits from the record would go to the John F. Kennedy Library in Cambridge, Mass.

However, a library spokesman said in a statement:

"Capitol Records, Inc., did offer as a donation to the John F. Kennedy Library Corporation a portion of the royalty payable in connection with the Ruby album. The directors of the library corporation do not accept contributions from commercial enterprises such as this."

Ruby To Be Buried Beside His Parents

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack Ruby, who grew up on Chicago's tough West Side, returned home in death today after gaining international notoriety as the slayer of President John F. Kennedy's accused assassin. He will be buried beside his parents.

The plane carrying Ruby's body landed at O'Hare International Airport shortly after midnight after a flight from Dallas, where he died Tuesday at Parkland Memorial Hospital — the same hospital in which Kennedy and Lee Harvey Oswald died.

His death from a blood clot in the lungs forever clouded the international doubts surrounding the assassination of President Kennedy. Until the end, Ruby insisted he acted alone in fatally shooting Oswald.

Ruby, 55, had extensive cancer, but Dr. Earl Rose, the Dallas County medical examiner, said it was a massive blood clot that would probably have killed him even if he had not been weakened by cancer. Rose said, however, that cancer would be listed on the death certificate as a contributing cause.

Rose, who performed an autopsy, said the blod clot apparently formed in Ruby's leg Tuesday morning and traveled through the heart to the lungs.

Ruby's coffin was taken from the plane as soon as the doors were opened. Twenty policemen quickly placed it in a hearse for the drive to a North Side funeral home.

Ruby's brother, Earl Ruby of Detroit, and two sisters, Eileen Kaminsky of Chicago and Eva Grant of Dallas, accompanied the body on the plane.

They appeared composed as they walked quickly and silently past a waiting crowd of some 50 newsmen.

Hershey Weinstein, president of the Original Weinstein & Sons Chapel, said services and burial would be held Friday morning.

Weinstein said that only Ruby's parents were buried in the large family plot in Westlawn Cemetery.

Ruby's death prompted statements from various individuals connected with the case in one way or another.

In New York, William F. Kunstler, one of Ruby's lawyers, said his death denied him the opportunity "to have a jury decide that he was guilty of nothing more than murder without malice, a crime that carries a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment."

Officers Cite Motorist, 42, After Mishap

A 42-year-old Newell man was cited on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol after a two - way auto mishap at 1:08 a. m. today on Jackson St. at W. 6th St., police reported.

Edward C. Brown of 417 Harrison St., Newell, was cited by Patrolmen W. F. Copestick and Paul Blevins after a collision that damaged his 1963 model sedan and a 1956 sedan operated by Nancy A. Wilkinson, 20, of 1127 Harker Ave.

The young woman was driving north on Jackson St. and Brown was turning off W. 6th St. onto Jackson St., officers said. Police alleged that Brown failed to negotiate the turn, striking the Wilkinson auto in the side.

John K. Brown, 19, of 426 Sugar St. was cited on a charge of improper backing after a mishap at 3:59 p. m. Tuesday at Washington St. and Church Alley that involved his 1957 two-door sedan and a 1966 two-door operated by Audrey P. Heffner, 40, of Stevenson Ave., Chester, officers said.

Brown told police a man stepped in front of his car and waved for him to back. In making the maneuver, he did not see the Heffner car halted behind him, he said.

A collision on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Tuesday afternoon involved a 1966 four-door sedan driven by Melvin C. Harris, 26, of 1069 Pennsylvania Ave. and a 1962 two-door sedan operated by Donald W. Goodling, 45, of 857 Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Goodling reported he was traveling west on the "Hill Rd." and pulled off the street to the right. Then he pulled across the street to turn around, resulting in the collision, he said.

The Achievement Medal, the highest award of the fraternity, was presented to Hadassah, the international Women's Service Organization responsible for maintaining the Hebrew University Medical and Dental Schools in Israel.

The convention was highlighted by a scientific program presented by Dr. Maury Massler, assistant dean for post-graduate and teacher education at the College of Dentistry of the University of Illinois.

54-Year-Old Siamese Twins 'Fair To Good'

HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP) — Margaret and Mary Gibb, 54-year-old Siamese twins, are reported in "fair to good" condition at Holyoke Hospital for treatment of an undisclosed ailment.

Hospital officials said Tuesday the sisters were admitted last Friday.

Margaret has twice undergone operations, in 1946 for removal of a stone from her bladder and in 1953 for a tumor removal.

The twins performed in vaudeville and with circuses during the 1930's in Europe and America. They returned to their native Holyoke in 1941 and opened a gift shop in their home.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My boy friend is a graduate student at a well known university on the West Coast. He is very bright and has won many honors.

I'm telling you this not to brag but to let you know that he's really not a moron — which is what you probably will think after I tell you my problem.

My little poodle, Nicole, is very dear to me. My boy friend has an Airedale. The last three times my boy friend has come to see me has yelled from the porch, "Put your dog in the basement. I brought Scotty along."

I have done as he asked. It so happens that I don't like to put Nicole in the basement and I don't see why he should bring his mutt over and make demands on me.

Yesterday he pulled this stunt again and I told him to take Scotty home and come back alone. Would you believe that he and that dumb hound sat outside in the car for one solid hour? Finally he drove off in a huff and called me from his place to say I was a spoiled brat.

I say he is the spoiled brat and that he owes me an apology. What do you say? — STILL SIZZLING.

-:-

Dear Sizz: No one should bring a dog when he goes visiting unless he has checked in advance and gotten an okay.

A young man who is so attached to his bowwow that he can't leave him home when he goes to see his girl is too childish to go with girls.

Wrong Prescription

Dear Ann: Mom passed away several months ago and Dad and I miss her very much. Dad tries to cheer up both himself and me by taking me places Friday and Saturday evenings.

Last Friday we went to a cocktail lounge where there was dancing. Several fellows I knew from school (I'm a junior) were there stagging it. Not one fellow asked me to dance. This made me very depressed.

Do you think they were afraid of my father? Please answer, as I'm really in the dumps over this. — A.P.

Dear A. P.: I'm sure your hunch is correct and I hope your dad will think of another way to cheer up both himself and you. Taking a teen-age daughter to a cocktail lounge is not my idea of a solution to any problem.

Old, Old Story

Dear Ann: I fell in love with a married man. I didn't realize until later that I was not his first affair. His wife realized it, however, and decided she had had enough of his playing around. She divorced him.

Now his sons want nothing to do with him. He is not permitted to see his grandchildren. His business associates no longer include him in their social plans. At dinner tonight he looked at me through eyes of hate — as if it was all my fault.

Let this letter be a warning to all single girls who are cozying up to married men with hopes for the future. I wish to heaven I never had seen this character and I'm sure he wishes he never had seen me. — ASHES IN MY MOUTH.

Dear Ashes: Your story is such a common one that I'm printing it only because some people have to see or hear something four dozen times before they get the idea.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Club Returns To 'Old Days'

Among the topics during his homespun reminiscing were the "cigar store Indian," minstrels, open-air street cars, the interurban transit system, bicycle races and stage performances at the Ceramic Theater.

He compared fashions, foods, music and athletics of yesteryear and today.

Additional remarks were offered by C. V. Hughes, a Rotary member since 1929, and E. R. Chandler.

Visiting Rotarians included Matt Curry of Hudson, Ohio, and Richard Beatty of St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

Robert Gray, First National Bank official, was also a guest. Arthur V. Doak presided.

$750 Set Up As Goal In Newell Dimes Drive

A goal of $750 has been set as Newell's share in the March of Dimes campaign, Tony LaNeve, community director, announced today.

Chairmen for the Newell area have been named as follows:

Mrs. Doris Durham, Mothers' March; Mrs. Sadye Nalley and Mrs. Joan Martin, special activities; Larry Rush, industries and business, and James Carl Durham and Donald DeLong, clubs and special contributions.

Some of the activities planned in January are teen-age dances, benefits dinners and a roadblock, LaNeve said. Letters soliciting contributions have been mailed to businessmen, clubs and organizations, he added.

The director pointed out, "Past accomplishments have given the world the weapons to triumph over polio. Before us is the specter of uncounted millions who are or will be disfigured or crippled by birth defects or arthritis if we do not make use of these developments."

LaNeve has headed the March of Dimes campaign in Newell since 1962.

The Peace Palace in The Hague was built with finances donated by Andrew Carnegie, noted philanthropist.

Council Gets Mayor's Request

Action Asked On Wellsville Plans

During its meeting Tuesday night, Mayor William Daugherty urged Wellsville Council to reach a decision on two major matters — the proposed relocation of Route 7 through the community and the selection of a planner to help supervise the low-cost housing program.

The mayor asked the legislators to go over the maps indicating the route and planned intersections, including the alternate choices, and "come up with what you think will be best for Wellsville and make your decision known."

HE ALSO suggested that Council choose one of the two planning firms which have already met with the members.

Representatives from the companies have presented figures for the cost of presenting a comprehensive plan and assisting the city with preparation of the necessary forms to obtain federal funds to finance the project. Daugherty asked the members if they wanted representatives to return for additional meetings and whether a time for a meeting might be set.

Councilman Glen Mathess commented "I don't think this is the time to discuss the matter," and requested a short caucus meeting be held following the regular session. Such a meeting was conducted.

The mayor returned ordinances he had signed into law, including those raising the salary of the civil service clerk from $150 to $240 a year, establishing Christmas Day and July 4 as extra pay holidays for police and firemen and amending the 1966 appropriation.

—:—

RESOLUTIONS requesting new Routes 7 and 39 be surfaced with concrete and one to the Ohio Department of Development asking that an application on behalf of Wellsville be made for federal funds aimed at the low - cost housing program also were returned signed.

Daugherty said his yearly report will be presented at the next meeting.

An ordinance authorizing the fire department to respond to calls outside the city to areas not covered by a municipal aid agreement was given a first reading.

The year's first ordinance—providing a temporary appropriation of $65,000 for operation of city departments—was read under suspension of rules and signed by the mayor. On the suggestion of City Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara, it was numbered 67-1. The new system, O'Hara said, will identify an ordinance immediately as to the year it was passed and at what time of the year it appeared. Subsequent ordinances will follow the form of 67-2, 67-3, etc., O'Hara explained.

O'Hara said his office's report to Council will likewise be given at the next regular meeting Jan. 17.

Council agreed to meet in caucus with the police and fire departments Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the fire station to hear members' requests for a pay raise.

—:—

A LETTER was read by Clerk Wayne Rose from the Ohio Historical Association director, Daniel Porter, informing the city that applications for historical markers had been sent to Wellsville.

Another communication from Porter pointed out several areas, including East Liverpool, have expressed an interest in the proposed pottery museum which the association and Gov. James A. Rhodes intend to create "sometime within this decade."

The letter explained that some of the interested areas have offered to donate the necessary 15 acres for the museum.

O'Hara suggested the 12th St. railroad tracks and the central ball park as possible local sites. He reminded council that 15 years ago the Highlandtown Dam was merely an idea and work by a council - appointed committee could result in the museum's location in Wellsville.

The finance committee chairman, George Lawton, said a meeting to set appropriations for the year will be forthcoming. He suggested the city hire a secretary to mail notices aimed at delinquent parking ticketholders. The idea was favorably received by the other councilmen.

A motion was passed to create legislation following the safety - service director to advertise for bids on timber located near the city reservoir. Lawton said Wellsville could net "a couple of thousand dollars" by selling the wood "to responsible lumbermen."

John McGarey said in light of the probable requests for funds facing the city, which include pay raises for the fire and police departments, repairs to the furnace in the amount of $300 to $400 and the low-cost housing planner's fee, Wellsville must find additonal sources of revenue. "While I realize it's a dirty word around here," McGarey added, "a wage tax may have to be considered."

Councilman Jack Call was absent.

Rev. Jack Hampton of the Central Methodist Church offered the invocation.

Allen Baldwin presided.

Columbiana Man Named Foreman For Grand Jury

LISBON — Edwin B. Dillon of Columbiana R. D. 2, president of the Citizens Savings Bank of Columbiana and Leetonia, is foreman of the Columbiana County Grand Jury sworn in this morning for the January term.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan called the eight men and seven women forward individually. Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court administered the oath to the group and gave instructions.

The jury went into session immediately with Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis and Assistant James D. Primm Jr., who will present between 25 and 30 cases. A report is expected Friday.

With Dillon on the panel are: Helen Cornell, Violet Newitz and Marjorie Galloway, East Liverpool; Violetta Brookman, Wellsville; Arlan E. Crawford, East Rochester R. D. 1; Clair Truex and Betty M. Haynam, Minerva R. D. 2; Donna Jean Sweet, Lloyd K. Walton, Robert Clark, Mary Thomas and William Karlman, Salem; Ryan E. Snyder, Columbiana, and Duane M. Bricker, Leetonia.

Wellsville Firemen OK Various Matters

James Sumpter was appointed janitor of the meeting room during a meeting of the Wellsville firemen Sunday night at the station.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis conducted a training session on various types of construction, how fire travels and forcible entry into a building.

A committee report was heard on an investigation to purchase new nozzles and booster line for the volunteer truck.

The department renewed its membership in the Ohio State Firemen's Association. James Russell, president, conducted business.

Scientists have been unable to find out how fireflies produce light without wasting a lot of energy as heat.

Madison Township Remains Without Constable Services

Madison Township remained without police constable protection today as a result of a split vote of two of the township trustees during a reorganization meeting Tuesday night at the township hall in West Point.

With Isaac Jones trustee, hospitalized, George Dunn and Frank Woodrow conducted business at the session, during which Dunn was renamed chairman and Jones vice chairman.

Dunn's motion to reappoint Clarence Ammon, Clifford Beohm and Richard Skelton as police constables did not get a second from Woodrow and the positions remained unfilled.

Woodrow's stand was that since the township residents had rejected a proposed one-tenth of a mill police levy in November, there apparently was no desire to have such protection.

The terms of the three officers expired Dec. 31 and police emergency calls have been referred to the sheriff's department.

Dunn commented that the township residents needed and are entitled to police protection despite the levy loss. He also said the $360 spent for leasing two radios for constable's autos was money well spent.

It is expected the police situation will be discussed further when the trustees meet Jan. 17. Ammon urged township residents to consider the need for local protection and to attend the next meeting to make their wishes known.

In other business, the trustees reappointed Carl Adams as road foreman and continued the regular meeting dates as alternate Tuesdays.

U.S. Officially Denies Deliberate Civilian Raids

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has officially denied that U.S. planes deliberately bombed civilian areas of Nam Dinh, North Vietnam's third largest city.

The statement was contained in a Defense Department letter to Rep. Ogden R. Reid, R-N.Y., that amounts to an official rebuttal of some portions of a New York Times dispatch about U.S. bombing of the city.

Dated Dec. 30 and made public Tuesday night, the letter was signed by Phil G. Goulding, deputy assistant secretary of defense for public affairs. It came in response to Reid's request for a restatement of U.S. policy on bombing and targeting in North Vietnam in light of recent Times' dispatches reporting widespread civilian deaths and damage.

Harrison E. Salisbury, a Times' assistant managing editor, said in one dispatch from Hanoi last week that U.S. planes have systematically attacked nonmilitary targets including a textile plant and dikes in Nam Dinh, killing 89 persons. He added: "No American communique has asserted that Nam Dinh contains some facility that the United States regards as a military objective."

Goulding said this statement "is without accuracy." He added: "The New York Times simply did not take the time to research the matter themselves — or, indeed, to ask our assistance."

The Times, however, said in today's editions that before Salisbury's dispatch was published Dec. 27 "it was read to Defense Department officials."

"In a statement printed in the same issue of the New York Times," the newspaper said, "administration officials conceded for the first time that American bombing raids against North Vietnam were accidentally causing damage to civilian areas.

Van Deerlin Confident In Powell Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — An investigating subcommittee's criticism of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell can't help but produce more votes to prevent the Harlem Democrat from taking his seat in the new Congress next Tuesday, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin said today.

Van Deerlin, a California Democrat, has announced that he will ask that Powell stand aside when the other members-elect are sworn in. He said he is sending every House member today an outline of a further proposal to keep Powell from taking his seat while a special committee looks into his qualifications.

The House Administration Committee published Tuesday its subcommittee's finding that Powell used official travel credit cards deceptively.

It said Powell used an assumed name for some of his own travel and that a staff employe, Corinne A. Huff, did likewise. Travel was provided at the expense of the Education and Labor Committee, which Powell heads, for persons unconnected with Congress, the report said.

However, neither the subcommittee nor the parent committee recommended action against Powell.

Marine Credits Prayers For Helping Save His Life

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Pvt. Ramon Escalera, the Marine who had a live rifle grenade removed from his throat, says he credits prayer with helping to bring him through his ordeal in Vietnam.

Escalera is being treated at San Diego Naval Hospital for wounds suffered in a battle near Da Nang Dec. 20.

He said Tuesday his patrol had been sent out to help another patrol which had been ambushed and that he thinks he saw the Communist guerrilla who fired the rifle grenade at him.

"He was on the other side of a stream beside the road," he said. "I didn't shoot at him because he was wearing an American-style helmet."

Escalera, 20, of Los Angeles, was helped by two hospital corpsmen after being hit in the throat and the leg.

"I just lay there choking and tried to keep breathing. I thought I wouldn't make it. I thought I would choke to death. But the corpsman told me to pray to God and I did," he said.

Escalera said he waited about four hours before an evacuation helicopter removed him to a hospital in Da Nang, where the grenade was removed. He said he didn't know at the time he was carrying a live explosive in his throat.

"When I woke up from surgery and found myself sitting there I was so happy that right away I gave the doctor and his staff the biggest thank-you I could—I was so glad to be alive," he said.

Lt. Cmdr. James Chandler of San Francisco was the surgeon who removed the grenade from Escalera's throat. A demolition team exploded the projectile.

They said it probably would have killed everyone in the operating room had it exploded there.

Escalera is now breathing through a hole in his throat. His jaws have been wired together as part of the repair job. To speak, he places his finger over the hole in his throat to direct air past his vocal cords.

"I'm feeling pretty good now," he said.

10th Satellite Circling Saturn, Scientists Say

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Astronomers have discovered a 10th satellite circling Saturn just outside the rings that are its trademark.

The satellite apparently is the closest to the planet and the rings, collections of particles that reflect light.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, a clearing house for information about celestial discoveries, confirmed the discovery Tuesday night.

A spokesman said the satellite is between 100 and 200 miles in diameter, but not visible to the naked eye on earth.

Saturn, about 71,500 miles in diameter, is some 886,700,000 miles from the earth. Its largest ring is 170,000 miles in diameter.

Dr. Audoin Dollfus of the Paris Observatory reported to the Smithsonian Tuesday that he had discovered the satellite Dec. 15, but confirmation was withheld until a second sighting was reported.

That came from R.L. Walker at the U.S. Naval Observatory in Flagstaff, Ariz., who said he spotted the satellite on a photographic plate taken Dec. 18.

The satellite is the first to be found circling Saturn since 1898.

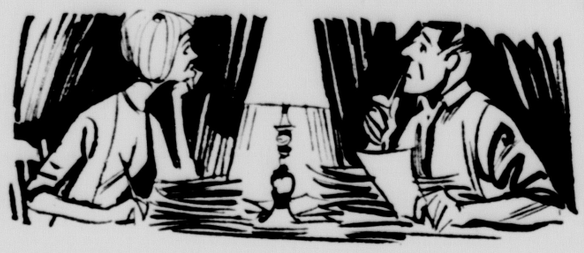
Joint, Separate Return?

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.



There are rare instances where separate returns by a husband and wife may produce a greater savings than on a joint return.

But in the great majority of cases, a joint return—because of its lower tax rates—is the more economical.

Exceptions to the general rule occur where husband and wife each have income and where there may be unusually high medical expenses or capital losses.

—:—

SINCE medical expenses for taxpayers under 65 are not deductible until after they exceed 3 per cent of income, it is apparent that a separate return by the party having a lower income and relatively high medical expenses would produce a bigger medical deduction.

It must be remembered that when one spouse itemizes his deductions on a separate return the other must also itemize instead of taking the 10 per cent or the minimum standard deduction.

When a medical deduction is claimed on a separate return care must be taken to see that payment of the medical expenses is made by the spouse's own funds. Payments made by check on a joint checking account, for instance, will be assumed to have been paid one-half by each spouse.

The only way to make sure of a savings on separate rather than joint returns is to try both methods and then file the one which saves you the most money. Where separate returns are made, each partner must list all of his own income.

—:—

THE EXCEPTION is in so-called community property states where all earned income and all income received from property acquired after marriage is treated as community income with half belonging to each spouse.

If a husband and wife each had capital losses on investments last year they may be able to obtain greater advantage of their losses on separate returns.

On a joint return they must first use the losses to offset capital gain and if any loss remains they may apply $1,000 reduction against other income after first reducing their gains.

A lesser opportunity for savings on separate returns occurs where a husband and wife each had income under $5,000 and use the automatic tax tables instead of itemizing deductions.

Sometimes the combined tax on separate returns using this method is less than the tax on a joint return. In such instances the savings generally is less than $5.

Limits Constitutional Convention

Senate In Pennsylvania Studies Reform Package

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Senate met today to move along Gov.-elect Raymond P. Shafer's constitutional reform package which includes a proposal for a limited constitutional convention.

The House also returned to work but its agenda primarily was one of reorganization for the 1967 legislative session which began Tuesday.

Both chambers, controlled by Republicans, went through relatively busy first - day schedules. Much of the time was devoted to ceremonial oath - taking and the election of chamber officers.

Another highlight was Gov. Scranton's final State of the Commonwealth message delivered to a joint session of the legislature.

Bipartisan support was given to eight of the bills in the nine-bill constitutional amendment package but Senate Democrats balked at co-sponsoring Shafer's convention proposal.

The Democrats objected to any limitation being put on a constitutional convention. They said they would shortly introduce their own bill designed to set up a convention without restrictions.

Nevertheless, the Senate gave the constitutional package fast committee approval and the first of its required three readings.

The convention proposal, if passed by the legislature, would also have to be approved by the voters in a referendum.

Under Shafer's plan, the convention would meet in June and would be limited to consideration of four subjects: The judiciary, reapportionment, local government and state taxation and finance.

His bill also would prohibit the imposition of a graduated income tax. The results of the convention would be placed on the November ballot for a vote by the people.

The other eight proposed constitutional changes have already cleared one legislature and would go on a referendum if passed by the current legislature.

Chief among these are measures that would permit a governor to serve an additional term, lower voter residency requirements and set up a $500 million bond issue for land and water conservations.

When Shafer takes office Jan. 17 he will be working with a legislature controlled by Republicans. The GOP has a 27-22 majority in the Senate and a 104-99 margin in the House.

After taking their oaths of office, the legislators formally elected officers for their respective chambers.

Sen. Robert D. Fleming, R - Allegheny, was inducted as Senate president pro tempore while, across the rotunda, Rep. Kenneth B. Lee, R - Sullivan, was installed as speaker of the House.

Scranton devoted most of his speech to a call for legislative reform and an appeal to the individual states to stop what he called a tendency by the federal government to encroach on their responsibilities.

He suggested that the legislature meet more frequently, buckle down to business early and get the job done quickly.

The governor also recommended that the various House and Senate committees be converted into continuing committees and not go out of existence with the end of each legislative session.

Jail Sentence Suspended In License Case

Japhros A. Clapp of Pittsburgh was given a suspended five - day jail sentence today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating an auto without a driver's license.

Clapp was arrested at 3:30 a.m. today on the River Rd. by Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. and Patrolman Paul C. Blevins. Blevins testified the two officers halted Clapp when they noted he was "acting suspiciously." A check on his credentials showed he had no driver's license, the officer said.

The court suspended the jail term on condition Clapp does not drive an auto again until he is licensed. Clapp was ordered to pay court costs.

Ralph Fusco of 1701 Lincoln St., Wellsville, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited Dec. 26 at 11:56 a. m. by the State Highway Patrol.

The court granted a continuance until Jan. 11 in the case of Ottomar W. Moon of 519 Carolina Ave., Chester, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of passing at an intersection on County Rd. 424. Moon was cited Monday at 5:05 p. m. by the patrol.

Hearings are set Thursday and Friday for two more cited drivers.

Jay Walter Williamson of 2037 Clark Ave., Wellsville, is due to appear Friday at 9 a. m. on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour in a 60-mile zone on Route 7. He was cited Tuesday at 7:50 a. m. by the patrol.

Wendell H. Kozee of 2119 Chester Ave., Wellsville, is slated for a hearing Thursday. He was cited by the patrol Tuesday at 10 p. m. on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7.

Police 'Sick' In Wage Bid At Campbell

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Since Friday, neighboring Campbell, a city of 14,000 has been without adequate police protection.

The only police protection has been a chief and a lieutenant on each shift.

Other policemen have called in sick, as members of other Ohio police departments have done when seeking higher wages.

State law forbids strikes by public employes.

Members of the Campbell Fire Department began calling in sick Sunday.

Tuesday "sickness" spread to the city's sewage treatment plant, with eight plant workers, the entire staff except for Supt. James Armaline, calling in sick.

The Mahoning County Sheriff's Department has offered to help Campbell in case of emergency.

Campbell municipal workers, including police and firemen, seek a pay increase of $50 a month. They had asked council for the raise six months ago.

Police and firemen in Warren who seek a $100-a-month pay increase, recently brought the city back to the bargaining table by reporting sick.

A five-man arbitration board is to settle the wage dispute in that Trumbull County community.

Meanwhile, in Canton, a Republican city councilman, Harry J. Guist, has suggested that Ohio city officials meet to establish guidelines for police and firemen's pay rates.

3 London Papers Urge Repeal Of Marriage Law

LONDON (AP) — Three London newspapers today urged Parliament to repeal George III's royal marriage law so Queen Elizabeth II won't have to decide whether her first cousin can marry the mother of his illegitimate son.

The Royal Marriages Act of 1772 was denounced on all sides as a museum piece of royal spite. It was brought to public attention again by the Earl of Harewood's announcement Monday that he is being divorced for adultery and wants to marry a former model who bore him a son 2½ years ago.

The 43-year-old earl is 18th in line of succession to the throne. His 40-year-old wife is expected to bring her divorce petition before the courts next month.

Under the ancient act, all members of the royal family descended from George II must have the monarch's permission to wed. This means that, technically at least, Harewood must seek the queen's consent before marrying Patricia Tuckwell, a 39-year-old divorcee from Australia.

As head of the Church of England, which opposes the remarriage of anyone whose partner is living, the queen would face clerical pressure to refuse her consent.

The Conservative Daily Mail, the Laborite Sun and the Evening Standard, a Beaverbrook newspaper which takes an independent line, all urged repeal of the 195-year-old act. So did Cyril Hankinson, former editor of DeBrett's Peerage.

Calling the act a "frowsty piece of legislation pushed through Parliament by George III," Hankinson said the king who later went mad after England lost her American colonies "was furious at secret marriages made by his brothers, the dukes of Cumberland and Gloucester, to commoners.

"Most people today think that the royal family should have the same rights as the queen's other subjects when it comes to a personal matter like marriage."

Neither police nor the hospital had an explanation for the knife-swallowing.

Legislature Gets Down To Organization

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's newly convened General Assmbly concentrated on organizational matters today to prepare for a session that may be up to its neck in serious business in about two weeks.

Leaders hinted that they expect early introduction of GOP administration programs and said they hoped preliminary work can be out of the way for the first bill introductions next week.

On tap today were the completion assignments, consideration of proposed rules changes, and a few patronage appointments which have to receive floor approval.

Senate Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-Miami, said the upper chamber would waste no time in getting down to business and added: "We want to get hearings started as soon as possible."

The 107th General Assembly convened Monday, and so far, activities have consisted primarily of ceremonial matters required by law. One such matter was taken care of Tuesday when the two chambers met jointly to certify results of the Nov. 8 election. Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, R-Medina, presided over the session, which lasted four minutes.

Certification of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's vote canvass cleared the way for GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes and other statewide officials to be sworn into office Monday morning.

Starting next week, Rhodes and his team of Republican incumbents will get pay raises voted by the last legislature.

Rhodes' salary goes from $25,000 to $40,000, those of Atty. Gen. William Saxbe, Auditor Roger Cloud, and Secretary of State Brown from $15,000 to $25,000, and that of the lieutenant governor from $8,000 to $17,000.

Leaders of both houses said first week sessions would adjourn after meetings today to return Monday night at 8 p.m. Next week's sessions also will run only through Wednesday instead of Thursday as the legislature normally does.

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

A&P

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see ... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading — not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

After Paying 4 Claims

Council To Study Insurance Plans

Council agreed Tuesday night to consider insurance plans for protecting the city against damage claims, including those arising out of motor vehicle accidents.

The action was taken as the legislators enacted a resolution approving payment of four bills against the city totaling $250.

Councilman James Lowe proposed that Council study legislation authorizing the administration to call for bids and let a contract for general liability insurance coverage. However, he amended his motion to ask for preparation of an insurance plan by Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper and a survey of insurance representatives that would provide officials with estimates of the possible cost.

Lowe's proposal calls for Council to study the insurance firms' propositions and then proceed with the plan if the cost is deemed warranted.

COUNCIL'S resolution approved payment of these claims:

Thomas K. Frederick of 735 Bradshaw Ave., for damage to a concrete block wall on his property in Ryder Alley when it allegedly was hit by a city garbage truck; Earl E. Kimes of 320 W. 4th St., $6 for damage to his auto when it hit a guardrail on a city parking lot; Ruth Dunn of 446 1st Ave., $8 for damage resulting from a stoppage in a sewer line, and George Martin of Hammondsville, $36 for damage to his auto when it allegedly was hit from the rear by a garbage truck.

Councilman Frank Duffy commented that the claims committee approved the bills "last July or August, but the solicitor held up the legislation until now."

Councilman Norman Bucher asked Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to check with the Ohio Power Co. on the cost of "upgrading" the streetlights along the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." and the lower end of St. Clair Ave.

Duffy commented that he is continuing to receive complaints about the city operating parking meters in residential districts.

"A man on W. 4th St. told me that his house is for sale, but when prospective buyers see a meter in front of the place, they just walk away," Duffy said. "I would like the street committee to investigate these meters in use in residential districts. A man shouldn't be charged for parking in front of his own home."

Duffy put his suggestion for an investigation into the form of a motion, which then was approved.

CHARLES SAYRE of Hill Blvd. appeared before Council to urge enactment of a parking ban on the west side of the newly - rebuilt segment of St. Clair Ave.

He said he understands that the cost of a system of electrically - illuminated signs required by the federal government to show the so - called reversible traffic flow on the stretch would be reduced if parking were banned at all times on the west side. Parking already has been banned on the east side of the stretch.

Sayre presented a letter signed by Arthur Doak, chairman of the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce, also requesting the parking ban.

Vodrey said the administration is completing work on assembling data on the cost of the signal system. He said the figures should be ready for presentation to Council soon.

The signals will be required to indicate which lanes are in use on the three - lane stretch during given hours. Two lanes are to be set aside for inbound travel in the morning rush hours, with one provided for outbound traffic. In the afternoon rush, two will be set aside for outbound traffic, with one for inbound movement.

Sayre also commented that East Liverpool "has a real opportunity to move ahead during 1967." He said Council should cooperate with the City Planning Commission. The commission's greatest need is for Council to establish the post of planning coordinator which it has requested, Sayre said.

Councilman Floyd Murray asserted that he believes parking will be banned on the west side of St. Clair when the final traffic control plans are worked out.

Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson said she has received a petition with 25 signatures objecting to an application given the State Liquor Control Department by Bert Willson for a beer and wine carry - out permit for use at a premises at St. Clair Ave. and Cain St. Notice of Willson's application was sent to Council under state law to allow the legislative body to report any objections.

The solicitor was instructed to prepare a resolution objecting to issuance of the permit for Council's consideration.

BEN WEBER, city health department sanitarian, presented a report from the State Health Department on a recent inspection of food service establishments in East Liverpool. He also presented a copy of a letter which the city Health Department wrote to the state in reply. The state's report was presented and discussed at the local Health Board's meeting last Thursday.

Mayor George E. Willshaw filed a report showing his office collected $3,363 during 1967 for municipal license and permit fees. The fees include those for building permits, taxi licenses, music box permits, junk yard operations, salesmen's permits and many others, the mayor said.

Councilman Robert W. Sample was excused from last night's meeting.

'Hidden Costs' Stressed In New Attack On Canal

PITTSBURGH — The Upper Ohio Valley Association yesterday reiterated its opposition to the proposed Lake Erie - Ohio River Canal, declaring that it is loaded with hidden costs.

The UOVA represents railroad interests who fear that the proposed waterway will reduce tonnage shipped by freight train and who contend that the canal would parallel existing rail routes.

The proposed canal, whose cost has been set at more than $1 billion, would run from near Ashtabula, Ohio, on Lake Erie, to a point near Rochester on the Ohio River in Beaver County.

The UOVA, in a year - end report, stated that Lt. Gen. William F. Cassidy, chief of Army engineers, is reviewing reports on the project before submitting a report to governors of Ohio and Pennsylvania and to interested federal agencies.

The UOVA pointed out that political subdivisions along the canal route in Mahoning, Ashtabula, Trumbull and Lake counties in Ohio and governments of Ohio and Pennsylvania have not agreed to accept local costs.

The UOVA also contended that there is no local assurance that future use of water in the area of the canal will be limited to present levels. If the water limitation is imposed, the UOVA predicted, there will be "an end to industrial and population growth along the canal."

Although the Corps of Engineers, according to UOVA, has estimated local money initially required in Ohio at $208 million plus cost of terminal facilities, the UOVA placed its own figure at $400 million. Canal supporters have maintained there will be almost no local costs in Ohio.

The UOVA pointed that if the federal government is not responsible for damages caused by canal construction added local costs will result.

The UOVA also predicted that Ohio would be burdened for 50 years with costs of annual maintenance and operation, annual interest, annual adjustment for loss of productivity on land and annual amortization of net investment.

Car Window Smashed As Thief Takes Purse

A thief smashed a window of a parked car Tuesday night on lower St. Clair Ave. and stole a woman's purse containing $5 and miscellaneous items, police said.

John Falone of Post Office Box 174 told officers the theft occurred while his auto was parked on St. Clair near the junction with Lincoln Ave. The thief hurled a stone through the right rear window of the 1966 model car, then stole a purse belonging to his daughter, Jo-Ann, Falone reported.

The theft was timed about 10:30. Patrolman David K. Mumaw found some of the articles stolen from the purse behind a nearby building, but the pocketbook was not located, officers said.

Local Asks School Board For Hike, Other Benefits

A request for wage increases, a working agreement, a vacation plan and other benefits was presented to the East Liverpool Board of Education by members of Union Local 677 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL-CIO) during a meeting Tuesday night.

The proposal was submitted by Lewis Campbell of Columbus, a state representative of the union, who explained he was acting on behalf of the bargaining agent, John Kelly of Youngstown, District 18 representative.

The board explained it was unaware that such a proposal was to be submitted. Campbell said he had received a communication requesting his presence. No members of the East Liverpool local were present, however.

The union is seeking a $90 a month increase for custodians, drivers and boiler firemen, $110 a month for all head custodians and 25 cents hourly for all matrons.

The union also is asking members of Union Local 677 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL-CIO) during a meeting Tuesday night.

It also is requesting consideration of a hospitalization plan paid for by the board, a working agreement with Local 677, a seniority setup and establishment of work rules.

The vacation schedule submitted for consideration calls for 10 working days after one year service and up to five years; 15 days from 5 to 10 years; 20 days from 10 to 15 years; 25 days from 15 to 25 years, and 30 days after 25 years.

The financial situation was discussed and Campbell said the union could help work toward the passage of a school levy.

Many Play Santa Claus For Home's Residents

LISBON — Many individuals and organizations kept the Christmas season going several weeks at the Columbiana County home.

Supt. Robert Boyce said gifts began arriving early in December and scarcely a day passed without a visit from a group or its representatives.

He called the season "tiring but rewarding. Anyone watching our people can certainly have his faith restored in the true meaning of Christmas."

Motorists passing the home at night saw a colorful and lavish display of lights and decorations. These are the personal property of Paul Yarwood, supervisor of the men's dormitory, who erects and maintains the display worth approximately $600.

There was a special Christmas program for the residents with movies and a show of magic by John Gruszecki of Hanoverton R. D. 1. The employes had their own Christmas party with a gift exchange and lunch.

Dana Boyce played Santa Claus Christmas morning. Dressed in a suit donated by the Salem Eagles Lodge, he distributed gifts and treats of candy and fruit to patients and residents.

The superintendent said the following groups and individuals visited the home or made donations:

North Georgetown Cub Scouts, Lisbon Hi Riders Club, Leetonia Future Teachers of America, the Leetonia Tool Co. Homeworth Cub Pack 302, sponsored by Knox School Parent - Teacher Association.

Hanoverton United Presbyterian Church, Trinity Presbyterian Church of East Liverpool, Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Salem, Bayard Methodist Church, East Liverpool Salvation Army.

East Palestine Junior Women's Club, Junior Leadership 4-H Club, Deming's Women's Club of Salem, Salem Eagles Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. R. After Paying 4 Claims

Council To Study Insurance Plans

Council agreed Tuesday night to consider insurance plans for protecting the city against damage claims, including those arising out of motor vehicle accidents.

The action was taken as the legislators enacted a resolution approving payment of four bills against the city totaling $250.

Councilman James Lowe proposed that Council study legislation authorizing the administration to call for bids and let a contract for general liability insurance coverage. However, he amended his motion to ask for preparation of an insurance plan by Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper and a survey of insurance representatives that would provide officials with estimates of the possible cost.

Lowe's proposal calls for Council to study the insurance firms' propositions and then proceed with the plan if the cost is deemed warranted.

COUNCIL'S resolution approved payment of these claims:

Thomas K. Frederick of 735 Bradshaw Ave., for damage to a concrete block wall on his property in Ryder Alley when it allegedly was hit by a city garbage truck; Earl E. Kimes of 320 W. 4th St., $6 for damage to his auto when it hit a guardrail on a city parking lot; Ruth Dunn of 446 1st Ave., $8 for damage resulting from a stoppage in a sewer line, and George Martin of Hammondsville, $36 for damage to his auto when it allegedly was hit from the rear by a garbage truck.

Councilman Frank Duffy commented that the claims committee approved the bills "last July or August, but the solicitor held up the legislation until now."

Councilman Norman Bucher asked Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey to check with the Ohio Power Co. on the cost of "upgrading" the streetlights along the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." and the lower end of St. Clair Ave.

Duffy commented that he is continuing to receive complaints about the city operating parking meters in residential districts.

"A man on W. 4th St. told me that his house is for sale, but when prospective buyers see a meter in front of the place, they just walk away," Duffy said. "I would like the street committee to investigate these meters in use in residential districts. A man shouldn't be charged for parking in front of his own home."

Duffy put his suggestion for an investigation into the form of a motion, which then was approved.

CHARLES SAYRE of Hill Blvd. appeared before Council to urge enactment of a parking ban on the west side of the newly - rebuilt segment of St. Clair Ave.

He said he understands that the cost of a system of electrically - illuminated signs required by the federal government to show the so - called reversible traffic flow on the stretch would be reduced if parking were banned at all times on the west side. Parking already has been banned on the east side of the stretch.

Sayre presented a letter signed by Arthur Doak, chairman of the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce, also requesting the parking ban.

Vodrey said the administration is completing work on assembling data on the cost of the signal system. He said the figures should be ready for presentation to Council soon.

The signals will be required to indicate which lanes are in use on the three - lane stretch during given hours. Two lanes are to be set aside for inbound travel in the morning rush hours, with one provided for outbound traffic. In the afternoon rush, two will be set aside for outbound traffic, with one for inbound movement.

Sayre also commented that East Liverpool "has a real opportunity to move ahead during 1967." He said Council should cooperate with the City Planning Commission. The commission's greatest need is for Council to establish the post of planning coordinator which it has requested, Sayre said.

Councilman Floyd Murray asserted that he believes parking will be banned on the west side of St. Clair when the final traffic control plans are worked out.

Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson said she has received a petition with 25 signatures objecting to an application given the State Liquor Control Department by Bert Willison for a beer and wine carry - out permit for use at a premises at St. Clair Ave. and Cain St. Notice of Willison's application was sent to Council under state law to allow the legislative body to report any objections.

The solicitor was instructed to prepare a resolution objecting to issuance of the permit for Council's consideration.

BEN WEBER, city health department sanitarian, presented a report from the State Health Department on a recent inspection of food service establishments in East Liverpool. He also presented a copy of a letter which the city Health Department wrote to the state in reply. The state's report was presented and discussed at the local Health Board's meeting last Thursday.

Mayor George E. Willshaw filed a report showing his office collected $3,363 during 1967 for municipal license and permit fees. The fees include those for building permits, taxi licenses, music box permits, junk yard operations, salesmen's permits and many others, the mayor said.

Councilman Robert W. Sample was excused from last night's meeting.

'Hidden Costs' Stressed In New Attack On Canal

PITTSBURGH — The Upper Ohio Valley Association yesterday reiterated its opposition to the proposed Lake Erie - Ohio River Canal, declaring that it is loaded with hidden costs.

The UOVA represents railroad interests who fear that the proposed waterway will reduce tonnage shipped by freight train and who contend that the canal would parallel existing rail routes.

The proposed canal, whose cost has been set at more than $1 billion, would run from near Ashtabula, Ohio, on Lake Erie, to a point near Rochester on the Ohio River in Beaver County.

The UOVA, in a year - end report, stated that Lt. Gen. William F. Cassidy, chief of Army engineers, is reviewing reports on the project before submitting a report to governors of Ohio and Pennsylvania and to interested federal agencies.

The UOVA pointed out that political subdivisions along the canal route in Mahoning, Ashtabula, Trumbull and Lake counties in Ohio and governments of Ohio and Pennsylvania have not agreed to accept local costs.

The UOVA also contended that there is no local assurance that future use of water in the area of the canal will be limited to present levels. If the water limitation is imposed, the UOVA predicted, there will be "an end to industrial and population growth along the canal."

Although the Corps of Engineers, according to UOVA, has estimated local money initially required in Ohio at $208 million plus cost of terminal facilities, the UOVA placed its own figure at $400 million. Canal supporters have maintained there will be almost no local costs in Ohio.

The UOVA pointed that if the federal government is not responsible for damages caused by canal construction added local costs will result.

The UOVA also predicted that Ohio would be burdened for 50 years with costs of annual maintenance and operation, annual interest, annual adjustment for loss of productivity on land and annual amortization of net investment.

Car Window Smashed As Thief Takes Purse

A thief smashed a window of a parked car Tuesday night on lower St. Clair Ave. and stole a woman's purse containing $3 and miscellaneous items, police said.

John Falone of Post Office Box 174 told officers the theft occurred while his auto was parked on St. Clair near the junction with Lincoln Ave. The thief hurled a stone through the right rear window of the 1966 model car, then stole a purse belonging to his daughter, Jo-Ann, Falone reported.

The theft was timed about 10:59. Patrolman David K. Mutty found some of the articles stolen from the purse behind a nearby building, but the pocketbook was not located, officers said.

Hawks Owner To Sell Team Due To Health

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ben Kerner, one of two individual owners of a National Basketball Association club, says he's putting his St. Louis Hawks on sale.

An attorney for Kerner made the announcement Tuesday at a news conference which the 50-year-old owner did not attend. Kerner suffers from arthritis and his health was given as a primary reason for the decision.

"The operation of a team in the NBA now demands more than just one man," said Michael J. Aubuchon, the attorney for the club. Aubuchon denied that falling attendance precipitated Kerner's decision.

"There has been a profit every year since the club moved here in 1955. Last year the Hawks made a profit of $243,975 and a comparable profit is expected this season," said Aubuchon.

Kerner wants local interests to buy the club, said the attorney, but is willing to discuss reasonable offers from any city. He said the price for the second-place Hawks, who trail the San Francisco Warriors in the Western Division, was a matter for negotiation.

The Hawks, who have won five divisional championships and one league title, have been in St. Louis since 1955.

After trailing 6-5 in the first quarter, Beaver Local moved on top 15-12 and 28-25 at the next two quarter stops.

Phillies Buy Jim Gentile

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies have added controversial slugger Jim Gentile to their roster as a backup man for first baseman Bill White, injured in an off-season accident.

General manager John Quinn of the National League Phillies, announced Tuesday that Gentile, 33, had been acquired from the Cleveland Indians' Portland farm club for a player to be named later or cash.

He said the deal was made for Gentile due to "the need to go into spring training with an experienced first baseman."

White, who drove in more than 100 runs and hit more than 20 homers last season, injured his ankle while playing handball in St. Louis Dec. 19. Doctors said he is expected to miss part or all of spring training this year.

Hawks Owner To Sell Team Due To Health

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ben Kerner, one of two individual owners of a National Basketball Association club, says he's putting his St. Louis Hawks on sale.

An attorney for Kerner made the announcement Tuesday at a news conference which the 50-year-old owner did not attend. Kerner suffers from arthritis and his health was given as a primary reason for the decision.

"The operation of a team in the NBA now demands more than just one man," said Michael J. Aubuchon, the attorney for the club. Aubuchon denied that falling attendance precipitated Kerner's decision.

"There has been a profit every year since the club moved here in 1955. Last year the Hawks made a profit of $243,975 and a comparable profit is expected this season," said Aubuchon.

Kerner wants local interests to buy the club, said the attorney, but is willing to discuss reasonable offers from any city. He said the price for the second place Hawks, who trail the San Francisco Warriors in the Western Division, was a matter for negotiation.

The Hawks, who have won five divisional championships and one league title, have been in St. Louis since 1955.

Jet Hydroplane Explodes

Campbell Races To Death While Making Speed Test

CONISTON, England (AP) — Donald Malcolm Campbell, who flirted with death setting speed records on land and water, vanished and was given up for dead today when his jet hydroplane boat Bluebird somersaulted and sank racing at about 300 miles an hour on Lake Coniston.

Witnesses on shore said there appeared to be an explosion. "Campbell must be considered killed," said one.

Wreckage of the boat and parts of Campbell's clothing, including his oxygen mask, were found, but there was no sign of the 45-year-old racer.

His last words radioed from his speedcraft were: "I'm giving her full power. I can't see much. I'm going."

Campbell, who was out to break his own record of 276.33 miles an hour, was strapped in the Bluebird. He made one run up the lake and was making a return run when disaster struck.

While playing cards with friends Tuesday night he turned up the ace of spades followed by the queen of spades.

He remarked: "Mary, Queen of Scots, turned up the same combination of cards and knew from it that she was going to be beheaded. I know that one of my family is going to get the chop. I pray to God it is not me."

Campbell appeared in a cheerful mood this morning, however, as he got set for his record attempt.

He was the son of Sir Malcolm Campbell, who gained fame in the 1930s for his racing exploits on land and water. The younger Campbell took pride in being known as one of the "fanatical Campbells."

Shore observers said that Campbell's last words "I'm going could have meant that he sensed disaster or that he was going all out in trying for the record.

An explosion was reported as the boat went down.

Wreckage strewed to the surface but there was no sign of Campbell.

Campbell's shoes, helmet, and oxygen mask were recovered.

An eyewitness on the shore said:

"The boat appeared to become airborne before somersaulting. A rescue boat circled the spot but appeared to find no sign of life. As the boat hit the water there appeared to be an explosion.

Duke Coach Suspends Four Starters But Wins Game

By HAL BOCK

"A position of leadership," said Vic Bubas, Duke's basketball coach, "is a lonely one and I have been lonely for the last couple of days."

Bubas got lonelier later.

That was after he had temporarily suspended nine players including four starters for training violations and left himself with only seven players — two on the bench and five on the floor — for Tuesday night's game against Penn State at Durham, N.C.

Fortunately for Duke, one of the clean sweep survivors was sharp shooting Bob Verga. He fired 38 points and led what was left of the Blue Devils to an 89-84 victory over Penn State.

Bubas would give no details on the suspensions which hit starters Mike Lewis, Bob Reidy, Dave Golden and Tim Kolodziej and reserves Tony Barone, Warren Chapman, Ron Wendelin, Jim Liccardo and Joe Kennedy.

The coach would say only, "it is a privilege, not a right to play college basketball."

Fred Lind, C.B. Claiborne, Steve Vandenberg and Stu McKaig joined Verga in Duke's starting line-up. Lind and Claiborne never had scored a point before for Duke but produced 22 between them with Claiborne getting 13.

Vandenberg, who had been averaging 3.4 points per game, led the subs-turned-starters with 16 points. McKaig scored eight. Bob Francis, who had never played a varsity minute for Duke before, came off the sparsely populated bench and scored five points.

Louisville, ranked second in The Associated Press' Top Ten, overcame a strong individual performance by Tulsa's Eldridge Webb and beat the Hurricanes 76-62 in a Missouri Valley Conference game refereed by high school officials.

The regular MVC officials failed to show up for the game, which had been rescheduled from Jan. 7. "It was just the breaks," said Tulsa Coach Joe Swank. "Of course I'm not very happy."

Webb scored 18 points in the first half and finished with 27. Westley Unseld led the Cardinals with 24 points and 24 rebounds.

Western Beaver Defeated, 62-59

Western Beaver was handed its first Section 17-B setback in two starts when West Allegheny scored a 62-59 decision Tuesday night.

The Golden Beavers got off to a slow start and had to play catch up ball during the contest. West Allegheny led 12-3 at the first quarter mark, 28-13 at halftime and 41-34 after three periods.

Western Beaver only came as close as three points to gaining the lead.

The shooting of Bill Hager in the first quarter put the winners in front early. Hager wound up with 23 points while Larry Steelman who stood out in the final added 21.

Mike Lacey poured in 25 points for the Beavers with eight field goals and 9 of 10 fouls. Clarence Andrews was a one-man rebounding team grabbing 35 off the board.

Western only hit 25 per cent from the floor on 24 of 96 while West Allegheny shot 33 per cent hitting 24 of 71.

The game left both teams with 1-1 league records.

The West Allegheny reserves won, 53-48.

Carnegie plays at Western Beaver Friday.

Jet Hydroplane Explodes

Campbell Races To Death While Making Speed Test

CONISTON, England (AP) — Donald Malcolm Campbell, who flirted with death setting speed records on land and water, vanished and was given up for dead today when his jet hydroplane boat Bluebird somersaulted and sank racing at about 300 miles an hour on Lake Coniston.

Witnesses on shore said there appeared to be an explosion. "Campbell must be considered killed," said one.

Wreckage of the boat and parts of Campbell's clothing, including his oxygen mask, were found, but there was no sign of the 45-year-old racer.

His last words radioed from his speedcraft were: "I'm giving her full power. I can't see much. I'm going."

Campbell, who was out to break his own record of 276.33 miles an hour, was strapped in the Bluebird. He made one run up the lake and was making a return run when disaster struck.

While playing cards with friends Tuesday night he turned up the ace of spades followed by the queen of spades.

He remarked: "Mary, Queen of Scots, turned up the same combination of cards and knew from it that she was going to be beheaded. I know that one of my family is going to get the chop. I pray to God it is not me."

Campbell appeared in a cheerful mood this morning, however, as he got set for his record attempt.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: Here's another little tidbit I found out recently which might save you a pan cleaning job.

Those who love stuffed bell peppers but hate to clean the pan can cook them in an old aluminum, frozen dinner tray. Then just discard it after supper. One pan holds exactly four. Two peppers fit in the big side and one in each vegetable compartment.

Before I put my stuffed peppers in the oven to cook, I put about two teaspoons of water in each compartment, the peppers steamed themselves and did not stick to the pan.

Absolutely luscious.

And as I have said before, when mixing up that hamburger meat for the stuffed peppers, don't forget to add some bouillon cubes. You'll have a tastier dish.

You also might try adding a tablespoon or so of Worchestershire sauce. It's great, too.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I covered a two-pound coffee can with adhesive-backed plastic paper in a rose chintz pattern.

It's just the thing for my wiglet when fitted into the right height hatbox. I glued the can in place so it won't slide about.

ELIZABETH RAY.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who save coupons redeemable in grocery stores, here's how I never forget mine:

I make my grocery list on the back of an envelope and insert the coupons. This way when I get to the store I have my coupons.

DOTTIE WIENECKE.

DEAR HELOISE: I was just sifting through my pin box for a needle when I hit on an idea I haven't seen yet in your column.

I taped a soft piece of material to the inside of the lid—several thicknesses—and stuck my needles into it. Now they are easily found.

Sure, I have a pincushion but when I'm in a hurry at the sewing machine, I keep my thimble, pins and needles all in this one small box.

VIRGINIA P. HERRICK.

DEAR HELOISE: Those bumper pads left over from the crib make excellent little pads for around the back of the high chair and stroller. Since they have ties, you can tie them in place. They are made of plastic and can be washed often.

It certainly helps hold those little fellows up so they aren't sagging and slipping.

GINNY HERTWERK.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's my suggestion of a game for young children who are shut in while sick, or on a rainy day.

My older children have some bath soap in the shape of various characters and animals. For my 3-year-old, I set up a bowling game using the soap figures and a small plastic ball.

The plastic ball doesn't chip the soap and he has a "ball" bowling them over on the kitchen floor.

MRS. R. E. KING.

-:-

This would be darling because of the cute figures and the beautiful colors that some bath soaps come in.

If you don't have the soap figures, one could use small plastic bottles and a tennis or table tennis ball.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Our family is quite large and likes to get together for holidays; which means lots of children and never enough beds.

We have found that when three small children have to sleep in one double bed, they have much more room if you put the pillows along one side and let them sleep across the bed.

If you are really crowded, four can sleep this way.

Before we got this idea we thought nothing of sleeping three in a double bed.

Of course, the older children would be too tall, but our 9-year-old can still sleep across a double bed.

This sure helped our large family over the Christmas holidays.

MRS. VOPINEK.

You Should Avoid Overload

The slimming science is to avoid a major overload at any one time. You cannot build leanness by slighting breakfast, going light at lunch and consuming a heavy dinner.

Ida Jean Kain

Does this nean that calories count more at one time than at mother? On the weight score, calories count the same at all times. Excess calories lead to overweight, regardless of when they are consumed.

Calories are not food as such, but a yardstick for measuring the fuel value of food. The amount of energy (calories) in a given food, a recipe, a meal, and in the day's grand total, can be measured and expressed in terms of calories.

ON THE identical number of calories, when you take an excess of fuel at one big meal, you set the stage for shunting that excess into body fat.

This in turn leads to a disproportionate amount of your weight being in fatty tissue. If your food does not add up to more calories than your requirements, you could not weigh more by the scales, but overeating at one big meal leads to a higher proportion of fat in the tissues.

The new approach to the perplexing problem of obesity is directed toward body composition. It is excess body fat that is believed to be associated with the chronic degenerative diseases. Talk this over with your doctor. The New Year is an excellent time for a physical checkup.

The medical profession is now emphasizing the fallacy of relying on height - weight tables alone for determining desirable weight. What's needed is a way to measure the total amount of body fat. Since much of the excess fat in the body is right under the skin, the doctor, using skin calipers, can measure the fat.

A pinch test is a fair guide. Take a deep pinch of skin on the side of the body just over the lower ribs. If the fold is thicker than one inch, you are too fat. You can be overly fat without being overweight.

—:—

WHAT TO DO? Change your eating pattern so as to avoid an overload at any one meal, cut calories and burn your excess fat with exercise. Tone up and slim down.

That's tomorrow's story.

Fire Killed 12,100 In U.S. During 1966

BOSTON (AP) — Fire caused approximately 12,100 deaths and some $1.8 billion in property loss during 1966, preliminary figures by the National Fire Protection Association showed today.

The estimated death toll was up some 100 over the 1965 total and apparently equalled the record high of 12,100 set in 1954, the NFPA said.

Should the property loss total be final, the NFPA said, it will be an all-time high. The previous record of $1.78 billion was recorded in 1963.

The fire victims included about 2,100 children, the NFPA reported.

$1 Billion Set In Ohio To Fight Water Pollution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The uphill fight against water pollution in Ohio will be fought with about a billion dollars over the next four years, a Department of Health disclosed Tuesday.

Increasing federal assistance during that period should push total spending in the state to about $250 million a year on waste treatment facilities, Dr. Emmett W. Arnold, department director, said in the report. A record $150 million worth of such facilities were under construction in 1966, he said.

Fifteen cities have major projects under way now, he said. They are Cleveland, Columbus, Akron, Middletown, Bellefontaine, Athens, Eaton, Fairfield, Fremont, Geneva, Kent, Miamisburg, North Royalton, Strongsville and Sylvania.

Under the federal program aimed at water pollution, Ohio's allocations are $6 million this fiscal year, $22 million in 1968, $35 million in 1969, $51 million in 1970 and $65 million in 1971.

Arnold's progress report also said that some 95 per cent of the Ohio municipalities and industries with pollution problems along Lake Erie have submitted time schedules for required improvements.

Man, 23, Cited For Draft Dodge; Fled To Canada

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A Hartford man who was featured in a recent magazine article on Americans who flee to Canada to avoid the draft has been charged by a federal grand jury with draft evasion.

Gregory R. Garach, 23, was pictured with another young American in Life magazine's Dec. 9 edition. The article said they were among 400 to 1,000 Americans now in Canada to avoid compulsory military service.

The federal grand jury said Tuesday that Garach had used the name Gregory Roman in Canada. He was described by the magazine as a graduate of the University of Illinois.

Life quoted Garach as saying, "I don't dig patriotism or nationalism. It leads to war. It's all an accident of birth who you fight for. If I was born in Russia I wouldn't fight for the Russians either."

A bench warrant was issued for his arrest and his bond was set at $5,000. However, the warrant cannot be served in Canada, which has no draft laws and no extradition for draft offenses.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

A Man Of No Questions

If Howard Duff has formed any kind of philosophy from 32 years of acting, it is summed up when a cynical grin creases his well-worn face and he says, "I don't ask questions any more."

Hal Humphrey

Duff is like a combat line sergeant who has survived enough patrols to become wise and not too ambitious. He knows his craft well and expects those around him to know theirs. Duff has learned, too, that asking questions usually nets him nothing but disappointing or confusing answers.

When he was first signed for his current role as the cop in ABC-TV's Felony Squad, it was called "Men Against Evil" and was to be done as an hour show split into two half-hour segments each week. Duff was a lieutenant and had Jeanne Crain as his wife. Dennis Cole, Duff's partner, also was married and expecting his first offspring. Ben Alexander, father to Dennis, had a wife at home, too.

BEFORE THE SERIES got on the air it went through another name change (to "The Heavy Squad"), all of the wives were scrapped and, as Duff describes it, "the show was turned into a regular get-off-your-behind - and - get-'em cops and robbers story."

"I suppose," he adds, dryly, "that the other version, which was kind of like Peyton Place with all those wives, looked good on paper. I really don't know what happened to change their minds. As I told you before, I don't ask questions any more."

One reason for Duff's passivity in this case was his not knowing for sure if he still was to play Detective Sergeant Sam Stone. He already had been knocked down from lieutenant to sergeant, and after ABC sold the series to Liggett & Myers Tobacco for half sponsorship, Duff heard he might be out entirely.

"I'd done a couple of TV commercials for Old Gold — just voice-over things, so you didn't see me. But apparently somebody at L & M decided my voice would be recognized so I heard they wanted another actor for Sam Stone," said Duff.

"It finally was settled. I gave back some money to Old Gold, and I think ABC made some kind of settlement. Really, I don't think I want to talk about it now."

THERE IS a distinct quality in Duff's voice, just as there was in the late Humphrey Bogarts. Many Californians recognized the Duff vocal chords when he loaned them to the political committee against Proposition 14, which was on California's 1964 ballot as an initiative to kill open housing laws. Duff was a loser in that case, too, because Proposition 14 pased in spite of the TV announcements he recorded to defeat it.

When the TV network schedules were firmed up for this season and Duff discovered "Felony Squad" was on Monday nights at 9 o'clock he let out an "Oh, no!" groan. It put him against CBS "Andy Griffith Show," which is exactly where Duff was six years ago in an NBC series called "Dante." The wholesome sheriff of Mayberry was too much for Duff's "Dante," who was operating a night club in San Francisco where it was suspected there was gambling in the backroom. "Dante" lasted just the one season.

SO FAR, "Felony Squad" and Duff are getting licked by Andy, but at least Duff is running second in a three-horse race. NBC's "Road West" is outpointed all around. "Felony Squad" hasn't ranked in the "Top 40" nationally yet, but was No. 11 in the 30-city count, and this makes it a fairly safe bet to get a second season run.

Betwen the ill-fated "Dante" and Duff's job now as Sam Stone, he did two pilot films for a series called "The Green Peacock" which had him playing an ex-cop south of the Rio Grande. It didn't sell. There is talk every once in a while of reviving "The Adventures of Sam Spade," the radio serial in which Duff had the title role for five years, but nothing ever seems to come of it.

Last season he directed several of the episodes in "Camp Runamuck," which petered out on NBC. Duff also did an Italian movie, guest shots on TV, some summer stock and "Some winter stock, too," he adds, with that same cynical grin.

Ohio Professor, Family Believed Crash Victims

ABBEVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Three charred bodies recovered Tuesday from the wreckage of a small plane were believed to be those of a University of Cincinnati professor and his family.

Tentative identification of the victims—Dr. P. Michael Edelman, 37; his wife, Jean C., and their daughter, Alison, 7, of Mulberry, Ohio—was made by the Wilcox County Sheriff's Department.

Dr. Edelman was an assistant professor of physiology and an instructor in the university's College of Medicine. His wife was a senior research associate in physiology at the university.

A pathologist was attempting to make positive identification.

The plane crash occurred Monday near here. The craft was registered to Dr. Edelman and he and his family had been visiting in Florida. They were believed en route home.

Bishop Creates Diocesan Office On City Problems

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, newly appointed bishop of the Rochester Roman Catholic Diocese, has formed what he believes is the first diocesan office in the country to deal with inner-city problems.

The bishop also announced Tuesday that a 36-year-old priest and member of a militant civil rights group will head the office beginning Jan. 25.

He is the Rev. P. David Finks, assistant pastor of Immaculate Conception church here, and a member of FIGHT, a civil rights group.

Father Finks will bear the title of episcopal vicar of urban ministry for the Roman Catholic Diocese of Rochester.

The appointment was the first to be made by Bishop Sheen since he took charge of the diocese Dec. 15.

In a letter to Father Finks, the bishop, known nationally because of his television programs, pledged an active search for ways to relieve the plight of slum neighborhoods.

If you don't have the soap figures, one could use small plastic bottles and a tennis or table tennis ball.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Our family is quite large and likes to get together for holidays; which means lots of children and never enough beds.

We have found that when three small children have to sleep in one double bed, they have much more room if you put the pillows along one side and let them sleep across the bed.

If you are really crowded, four can sleep this way.

Before we got this idea we thought nothing of sleeping three in a double bed.

Of course, the older children would be too tall, but our 9-year-old can still sleep across a double bed.

This sure helped our large family over the Christmas holidays.

MRS. VOPINEK.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

You Should Avoid Overload

The slimming science is to avoid a major overload at any one time. You cannot build leanness by slighting breakfast, going light at lunch and consuming a heavy dinner.

Ida Jean Kain

Does this mean that calories count more at one time than at another? On the weight score, calories count the same at all times. Excess calories lead to overweight, regardless of when they are consumed.

Calories are not food as such, but a yardstick for measuring the fuel value of food. The amount of energy (calories) in a given food, a recipe, a meal, and in the day's grand total, can be measured and expressed in terms of calories.

ON THE identical number of calories, when you take an excess of fuel at one big meal, you set the stage for shunting that excess into body fat.

This in turn leads to a disproportionate amount of your weight being in fatty tissue. If your food does not add up to more calories than your requirements, you could not weigh more by the scales, but overeating at one big meal leads to a higher proportion of fat in the tissues.

The new approach to the perplexing problem of obesity is directed toward body composition. It is excess body fat that is believed to be associated with the chronic degenerative diseases. Talk this over with your doctor. The New Year is an excellent time for a physical checkup.

The medical profession is now emphasizing the fallacy of relying on height - weight tables alone for determining desirable weight. What's needed is a way to measure the total amount of body fat. Since much of the excess fat in the body is right under the skin, the doctor, using skin calipers, can measure the fat.

A pinch test is a fair guide. Take a deep pinch of skin on the side of the body just over the lower ribs. If the fold is thicker than one inch, you are too fat. You can be overly fat without being overweight.

—:—

WHAT TO DO? Change your eating pattern so as to avoid an overload at any one meal, cut calories and burn your excess fat with exercise. Tone up and slim down.

That's tomorrow's story.

Fire Killed 12,100 In U.S. During 1966

BOSTON (AP) — Fire caused approximately 12,100 deaths and some $1.8 billion in property loss during 1966, preliminary figures by the National Fire Protection Association showed today.

The estimated death toll was up some 100 over the 1965 total and apparently equalled the record high of 12,100 set in 1954, the NFPA said.

Should the property loss total be final, the NFPA said, it will be an all-time high. The previous record of $1.78 billion was recorded in 1963.

The fire victims included about 2,100 children, the NFPA reported.

$1 Billion Set In Ohio To Fight Water Pollution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The uphill fight against water pollution in Ohio will be fought with about a billion dollars over the next four years, a Department of Health disclosed Tuesday.

Increasing federal assistance during that period should push total spending in the state to about $250 million a year on waste treatment facilities, Dr. Emmett W. Arnold, department director, said in the report. A record $150 million worth of such facilities were under construction in 1966, he said.

Fifteen cities have major projects under way now, he said. They are Cleveland, Columbus, Akron, Middletown, Bellefontaine, Athens, Eaton, Fairfield, Fremont, Geneva, Kent, Miamisburg, North Royalton, Strongsville and Sylvania.

Under the federal program aimed at water pollution, Ohio's allocations are $6 million this fiscal year, $22 million in 1968, $35 million in 1969, $51 million in 1970 and $65 million in 1971.

Arnold's progress report also said that some 95 per cent of the Ohio municipalities and industries with pollution problems along Lake Erie have submitted time schedules for required improvements.

Man. 23, Cited For Draft Dodge; Fled To Canada

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A Hartford man who was featured in a recent magazine article on Americans who flee to Canada to avoid the draft has been charged by a federal grand jury with draft evasion.

Gregory R. Garach, 23, was pictured with another young American in Life magazine's Dec. 9 edition. The article said they were among 400 to 1,000 Americans now in Canada to avoid compulsory military service.

The federal grand jury said Tuesday that Garach had used the name Gregory Roman in Canada. He was described by the magazine as a graduate of the University of Illinois.

Life quoted Garach as saying, "I don't dig patriotism or nationalism. It leads to war. It's all an accident of birth who you fight for. If I was born in Russia I wouldn't fight for the Russians either."

A bench warrant was issued for his arrest and his bond was set at $5,000. However, the warrant cannot be served in Canada, which has no draft laws and no extradition for draft offenses.

Due Federal Grant

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Youngstown University will receive a $1 million federal grant to build a health and physical education building, according to U.S. Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

A Man Of No Questions

If Howard Duff has formed any kind of philosophy from 32 years of acting, it is summed up when a cynical grin creases his well-worn face and he says, "I don't ask questions any more."

Hal Humphrey

Duff is like a combat line sergeant who has survived enough patrols to become wise and not too ambitious. He knows his craft well and expects those around him to know theirs. Duff has learned, too, that asking questions usually nets him nothing but disappointing or confusing answers.

When he was first signed for his current role as the cop in ABC-TV's Felony Squad, it was called "Men Against Evil" and was to be done as an hour show split into two half-hour segments each week. Duff was a lieutenant and had Jeanne Crain as his wife. Dennis Cole, Duff's partner, also was married and expecting his first offspring. Ben Alexander, father to Dennis, had a wife at home, too.

BEFORE THE SERIES got on the air it went through another name change (to "The Heavy Squad"), all of the wives were scrapped and, as Duff describes it, "the show was turned into a regular get-off-your-behind - and - get-'em cops and robbers story."

"I suppose," he adds, dryly, "that the other version, which was kind of like Peyton Place with all those wives, looked good on paper. I really don't know what happened to change their minds. As I told you before, I don't ask questions any more."

One reason for Duff's passivity in this case was his not knowing for sure if he still was to play Detective Sergeant Sam Stone. He already had been knocked down from lieutenant to sergeant, and after ABC sold the series to Liggett & Myers Tobacco for half sponsorship, Duff heard he might be out entirely.

"I'd done a couple of TV commercials for Old Gold — just voice-over things, so you didn't see me. But apparently somebody at L & M decided my voice would be recognized so I heard they wanted another actor for Sam Stone," said Duff.

"It finally was settled. I gave back some money to Old Gold, and I think ABC made some kind of settlement. Really, I don't think I want to talk about it now."

THERE IS a distinct quality in Duff's voice, just as there was in the late Humphrey Bogarts. Many Californians recognized the Duff vocal chords when he loaned them to the political committee against Proposition 14, which was on California's 1964 ballot as an initiative to kill open housing laws. Duff was a loser in that case, too, because Proposition 14 pased in spite of the TV announcements he recorded to defeat it.

When the TV network schedules were firmed up for this season and Duff discovered "Felony Squad" was on Monday nights at 9 o'clock he let out an "Oh, no!" groan. It put him against CBS "Andy Griffith Show," which is exactly where Duff was six years ago in an NBC series called "Dante." The wholesome sheriff of Mayberry was too much for Duff's "Dante," who was operating a night club in San Francisco where it was suspected there was gambling in the backroom. "Dante" lasted just the one season.

SO FAR, "Felony Squad" and Duff are getting licked by Andy, but at least Duff is running second in a three-horse race. NBC's "Road West" is outpointed all around. "Felony Squad" hasn't ranked in the "Top 40" nationally yet, but was No. 11 in the 30-city count, and this makes it a fairly safe bet to get a second season run.

Betwen the ill-fated "Dante" and Duff's job now as Sam Stone, he did two pilot films for a series called "The Green Peacock" which had him playing an ex-cop south of the Rio Grande. It didn't sell. There is talk every once in a while of reviving "The Adventures of Sam Spade," the radio serial in which Duff had the title role for five years, but nothing ever seems to come of it.

Last season he directed several of the episodes in "Camp Runamuck," which petered out on NBC. Duff also did an Italian movie, guest shots on TV, some summer stock and "Some winter stock, too," he adds, with that same cynical grin.

Ohio Professor, Family Believed Crash Victims

ABBEVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Three charred bodies recovered Tuesday from the wreckage of a small plane were believed to be those of a University of Cincinnati professor and his family.

Tentative identification of the victims—Dr. P. Michael Edelman, 37; his wife, Jean C., and their daughter, Alison, 7, of Mulberry, Ohio—was made by the Wilcox County Sheriff's Department.

Dr. Edelman was an assistant professor of physiology and an instructor in the university's College of Medicine. His wife was a senior research associate in physiology at the university.

A pathologist was attempting to make positive identification.

The plane crash occurred Monday near here. The craft was registered to Dr. Edelman and he and his family had been visiting in Florida. They were believed en route home.

Bishop Creates Diocesan Office On City Problems

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, newly appointed bishop of the Rochester Roman Catholic Diocese, has formed what he believes is the first diocesan office in the country to deal with inner-city problems.

The bishop also announced Tuesday that a 36-year-old priest and member of a militant civil rights group will head the office beginning Jan. 25.

He is the Rev. P. David Finks, assistant pastor of Immaculate Conception church here, and a member of FIGHT, a civil rights group.

Father Finks will bear the title of episcopal vicar of urban ministry for the Roman Catholic Diocese of Rochester.

The appointment was the first to be made by Bishop Sheen since he took charge of the diocese Dec. 15.

In a letter to Father Finks, the bishop, known nationally because of his television programs, pledged an active search for ways to relieve the plight of slum neighborhoods.

Junior Editors Quiz on MARK TWAIN

QUESTION: How did Samuel Clemens get the name Mark Twain?

ANSWER: Samuel Langhorne Clemens was a famous American humorist and writer who lived between 1835 and 1910. Mark Twain was the pen name he used when writing books and stories. Clemens was brought up near the Mississippi River and became a river pilot. Later, as he began to write stories, he used much material from the colorful river life he had seen at close hand. He adopted the pen name because this reminded him of happy river days. The words meant two marks on a steamer's lead line, which indicate depth of 12 feet, or "safe water." Twain's most famous book, The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, tells how his boy hero and Huck's friend, Jim drifted down the Mississippi on a raft, having wonderful adventures as they went. The raft gave Huck a sense of security. With it, he could always escape the entanglements of the shore. Twain's writing style—direct and vivid—influenced American writing toward greater observation of reality. Almost as well known as Huck is Twain's other boy character Tom Sawyer, who, in a famous episode, tricked some of his friends into whitewashing a fence he was supposed to do himself.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get to know Tom and Huck even better than you do now. You'll laught at them — love them, too.

Sue Giles of Moultrie, Ga., wins this week's grand prize of a 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

ANSWER: Samuel Langhorne Clemens was a famous American humorist and writer who lived between 1835 and 1910. Mark Twain was the pen name he used when writing books and stories. Clemens was brought up near the Mississippi River and became a river pilot. Later, as he began to write stories, he used much material from the colorful river life he had seen at close hand. He adopted the pen name because this reminded him of happy river days. The words meant two marks on a steamer's lead line, which indicate depth of 12 feet, or "safe water." Twain's most famous book, The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, tells how his boy hero and Huck's friend, Jim drifted down the Mississippi on a raft, having wonderful adventures as they went. The raft gave Huck a sense of security. With it, he could always escape the entanglements of the shore. Twain's writing style—direct and vivid—influenced American writing toward greater observation of reality. Almost as well known as Huck is Twain's other boy character Tom Sawyer, who, in a famous episode, tricked some of his friends into whitewashing a fence he was supposed to do himself.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get to know Tom and Huck even better than you do now. You'll laught at them — love them, too.
